SCIENTISTS BAFFLED AS EARTH SPINS FASTER, SHRINKS DAYTIME

Earth took 1.59 milliseconds short of 24 hours to complete a full rotation on June 29, marking the shortest day in recent times. That record came close to being broken again last week, when July 26 came in 1.5 milliseconds short. Experts are not sure of the reasons though many theories have been floated. This is because the Earth's rotation is supposed to slow down over time — by a couple of milliseconds in 100 years — as the planet is constantly being tugged on by the Sun and Moon.

Inflation under control, claims FM

Combative Nirmala says price rise was worse during UPA; no question of recession in India

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

FINANCE Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Monday tore into the Congress-led Opposition that stalled Parliament over price rise, saying inflation was in double digits during the UPA regime. In her two-hour long reply to a debate on price rise in the Lok Sabha, She said her government contained inflation at 7% despite facing multiple globally disruptive events such as the pandemic and the Russia-Ukraine conflict. The current inflation, she said, is driven by food prices adding that the situation will improve soon.

"During the UPA regime, inflation was more than 9% for 22 consecutive months. We have been trying to bring inflation below 7%, but we are being criticised," Sitharaman said. She pointed out that inflation rose to double digits as many as nine times during the UPA regime.

Asserting that India's economy is good shape, she said there is no question of a recession. To buttress her point, she quoted a Bloomberg report that pegged India's probability of slipping into recession at zero per cent.

Sitharaman averred that the fundamentals of the economy are strong with NPAs at six-year low and GST mop-up remaining above ₹1.4 lakh crore levels for five straight months.

Comparing India's economic situation with other countries, the FM noted the US' GDP shrank in two consecutive quarters, pushing the country into an unofficial recession.

As for China, 4,000 banks are on the verge of bankruptcy.

"There is no question of India getting into recession or stagflation. The Bloomberg report has said that India has zero probability of getting into recession," she said, highlighting that India's debt-to-GDP ratio has come down to 56.29% in 2021-22. This, the minister said, is far better than many countries including the US, Canada, Japan, Italy, and Singapore.

The FM's reply to the price-rise debate in the Rajya Sabha is slated for Tuesday.

Meanwhile, Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla on Monday revoked the suspension of Congress MPs Manickam Tagore, Ramya Haridas, T N Prathapan and S Jothimani, who faced action for holding placards in the House.

I-DAY: KARNATAKA ON HIGH ALERT

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA is on high alert for the 75th Independence Day following inputs from Central agencies and recent spate of raids conducted by the National Investigation Agency (NIA) which reportedly have exposed an "active" ISIS-Khorasan (IS-K) module in the state.

The NIA is looking for at least two persons "of interest" from Bhatkal and Tumakaru, who are said to be closely associated with IS-K and are reportedly heading the propaganda of the banned global jihadist organisation through its India-centric magazine - Voice of Hind - in India after the arrest of Jufri Jawhar Damudi (30) from Bhatkal in August last year. Last month, Akhtar Hussain - an allegedly highly radicalised youth from Assam - in South Bengaluru and his associate Adil alias Zuba from Salem in Tamil Nadu were arrested. P5

Owners refuse to allow BMRCL study their buildings

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

THE Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited (BMRCL) is battling reluctance from families to permit their officials inside houses for a survey before tunnelling. This is done to help BMRCL set right any damages caused after tunnelling, said top Metro officials.

A senior official said, "We undertake a pre-building study and a post-building study underneath which any TBM would carry out drilling. People are reluctant to permit surveyors inside their homes citing privacy which will put them at a disadvantage when they later report about damages."

Pre-building study comprises taking photos, documentary evidence on the condition of the house with copies given to house owners. "In the absence of any study before tunnelling, we cannot be held responsible for the damages," the official added.

BMRCL will go ahead even if house owners do not permit it as the work is completely underground, he added.

TBM 'Urja' began its work from Pottery Town towards Tannery Town on July 26

Another official said that residents in some houses along the alignment route have also approached BMRCL before tunnelling began under their property, and spoke of the impact. "The tunnelling would have been done some distance away. It was done with the objective of claiming compensation. We explained that such an impact was not possible."

Urja begins third drive

Tunnel Boring Machine 'Urja' began its work from Pottery Town towards Tannery Town on July 26 to build a 13.8-km underground corridor for the Nagawara-Kalena Agrahara Line of Phase-II. It took 21 days using power jacks to bring it from the South end of Pottery Town to its North end. The front shield (cutter head) was disconnected, and taken first. The gantries followed it, and were attached later. It would be drilled and then taken out of a vertical shaft near Shaadi Mahal.

EC TO REVISE VOTERS' LIST EVERY QUARTER

Campaign launched to link Aadhaar, voter IDs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Election Commission has announced that voters can now link their Aadhaar numbers with voter IDs. Those aged 17 can apply for voter ID cards in advance instead of waiting to turn 18, EC added. The commission has also come up with an initiative of revising the voters' list every quarter.

Speaking at the launch of various initiatives by the EC, Manoj Kumar Meena, Chief Electoral Officer of Karnataka, said, "New forms will be given to the citizens to enrol their name in the voters list, change of address, removal of name from the list and linking it with Aadhaar".

> New forms will be given to the citizens to enrol their name in the voters list, change of address, removal of name from the list and linking it with Aadhaar
>
> Manoj Kumar Meena, CEO, Karnataka

EC will now accept advance application from those aged 17, and review them periodically. Earlier, they had to wait for January 1 to enrol, while under the new system, applications will be reviewed every quarter in January, April, July and October.

Helpline App has also been introduced by the EC which allows voters to search their electoral roll using personal details, EPIC numbers.

The EC has also come up with a campaign for voluntarily linking Aadhaar to voter IDs from Monday, but it is not mandatory. The government earlier in June amended the Registration of Electors Rules to allow linking Aadhaar details with a voters list to weed out duplicate entries and make election law gender-neutral for service voters.

Chief Secretary Vandita Sharma, Additional Chief Secretary of Urban Development Department Rakesh Singh, and BBMP Administrator, BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath, were present during the event.

ROADS TURN INTO STREAMS AFTER HEAVY DOWNPOUR

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

HEAVY rain lashed Bengaluru on Monday evening resulting in waterlogging in some low-lying areas in North Bengaluru. Officials of the Fire and Emergency Department said that all staffers have been put on alert to reach the affected areas.

In some areas, houses were inundated while there was power outage. Traffic came to a halt during the heavy downpour.

According to KSNMDC website, Bengaluru received 95.50 mm rainfall between 7.15 pm and 11:30 pm on Monday. The BBMP control room said that a tree was uprooted in Chamarajpet, and fell on a parked auto. However, no casualty has been reported.

The India Meteorological Department (IMD) has issued a yellow alert for Bengaluru till August 4. the rain was quite heavy for a couple of hours. Officials said the trend is likely to continue for the next two days.

At Yelachenahalli Ward, Kanaka Nagar and Fayazabad, water entered homes as drain overflowed.

Gulab Pasha, an activist, said that about 70 homes were flooded. "Two years ago, MLA M Krishnappa promised to fix the drains, and increase its capacity. Low-lying areas and slums are flooded during heavy rain," said Pasha.

IEC prog to resume after dog bite cases

MOHAMMED YACOOB @ Bengaluru

WITH the issue of stray dogs biting still unresolved, the BBMP, which had suspended its Information Education and Communication (IEC) programme almost a decade ago, is all set to resume it.

A group of activists had recently met BBMP Health Commissioner Trilok Chandra, and demanded to restart it as in many places, dog biting people were either due to provocation or manhandling of puppies.

Chandra said that the BBMP has said that in some zones, NGOs and Assistant Directors for Veterinary Department will take up the IEC programme. "The programmes will be held in schools. Important information about anti-Rabies vaccination will be shared, and children will be sensitised about various aspects of stray dogs. A circular will be issued soon," he said.

An activist associated with the Action for Animal Justice welcomed the decision, and said that for every stray dog bite incident, the poor voiceless animals are blamed. "In a majority of the incidents, provocations like pelting stones, prodding them with sticks, chasing sleeping dogs would have resulted in biting. The female dogs are aggressive when they give birth, and they might charge at people," said Mohan K, an animal lover.

Last time, IEC programmes were held was to sensitise children during the tenure of Parvez Ahmed Piran who served as Joint Director of BBMP Animal Husbandry Department between 2007 to 2014.

Netas violate flex order, but BBMP yet to file single case

BENGALURU: The orders of the Karnataka High Court and BBMP on flexes have been violated for the third time in a month. BBMP is yet to file a single case. After Minority Commission Chairman Abdul Azeem's son Zeeshan and supporters of BJP leader CT Ravi, Congress leaders close to BZ Zameer Ahmed Khan violated orders prohibiting display of flexes and banners in the city. With August 1 being Zameer Ahmed's birthday, his supporters put up flexes in and around Cockburn Road, near Cantonment Railway Station. Recently, BJP leaders from Chamarajanagar and Mandya had put up flexes near Vidhana Soudha and on Raj Bhavan Road. "While BBMP makes tall claims about imposing penalties and booking cases against people who put up flexes, so far not a single case has been filed," said citizens. When TNIE asked Special Commissioner, Revenue, RL Deepak, whether BBMP had booked any person for defacing the city, he said he has to check with the officials concerned. BBMP had said that ₹1,000 would be levied as fine, and cases booked against the person.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

02ND August : Is crime linked to the stars? According to research published recently, if your car is stolen, the thief is likely to be born under the same sign as you. We're not clear quite why this should be the case. However, the most likely reason is that people of the same sign share the same taste in transport. That's the rational explanation. It still doesn't fully satisfy me, though!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
You can now begin to feel a great deal more confident as far as joint financial arrangements are concerned. All may not be sweetness and light, but at least there will be a willingness to reach agreement. And that, it has to be said, is an excellent start.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Contrary to your sign's supposedly conventional nature, you have some quite individual and unusual aspirations. Today, you must strike out on your own, forging a unique path to the future. In fact, that's advice I'd give you most days over the present remarkable time.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
After today, romantic arrangements may begin to come unstuck, perhaps because friends start standing up for themselves. In some cases, this may be a relief, while in others you will be offered plenty of opportunities to correct any misunderstandings.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
You will now be seeing that there is much to be gained from taking a creative approach, developing your individual talents, rejecting pointless social constraints and letting your special form of spontaneity flow. You're also hitting an adventurous phase, by the way, so you'll soon be considering options and alternatives that you never thought were for you.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
What can you do when the stars indicate that you're still in a costly phase? Probably no more than pay up when the bills come rolling in. However, you should have taken steps by now to boost your earnings. Also, if a relationship still seems like an uphill struggle, then give it a few more weeks before you decide to get fed up!

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
You can now afford to look forward to a rest, even though there'll be moments when you feel as if you are still rushing along at breakneck speed, sweeping all lesser mortals and beings aside. However, it seems to be the case that much of your energy actually comes from other people - and perhaps from a new partnership.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
The Moon will cheer you up, especially when it forms some very helpful celestial relationships to parts of your chart which stimulate your vivid imagination. If all goes according to plan, this could be the time when you hear some welcome and very overdue news.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You may leave more stressful issues until tomorrow and concentrate on home and family arrangements. It's an ideal moment for discussing plans and finalising agreements, especially if money is on your mind, and particularly if you're prepared for the unknown!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Events that take place at the end of the week should clear away a lot of the debris, emotional and otherwise, at home. Until then, press ahead with whatever ambitious professional projects are in the pipeline - and make sure that everyone who needs to know what you're up to, does know.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Pull every string you can if you want to sustain your position at work or in the community. You may, though, be obliged to put certain important matters on the back-burner for the next fortnight. But your judgment will have to be impeccable - nothing less will do.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Although there have been times when you have felt isolated and excluded from what seems to be going on all around you, other people should now be in a position to reassure you. Listen closely to what partners are really trying to say, especially if cash considerations are looming.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Your long-term financial plans may now have to be reconsidered. The reason is not clear, and may be no more than that you have decided on one sort of investment suiting your purposes much better than another. But an additional factor is that a team enterprise could add to your funds.

CM calls meeting to discuss monkeypox today

Precautionary measures to be reviewed amid scare in Bengaluru

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai has called an emergency meeting on Tuesday to review the monkeypox situation and to take precautionary measures. The move comes in the wake of a death reported due to monkeypox in Kerala. Health Minister K Sudhakar and health department officials are likely to attend the meeting.

"We have taken the monkeypox infections seriously. We will decide on screening passengers coming from outside. Discussion will also be held on setting up labs and on arranging medicines.

It may be mentioned here that an African national from Ethiopia who had come to Bengaluru on July 4 was suspected to have monkeypox symptoms. However, he tested negative. The report said it was a case of chicken pox. This was the second suspected case of monkeypox in the state. Earlier, a person from Bengaluru with a travel history from UK also tested negative for monkeypox.

Bommai also said that he has also called a meeting on Tuesday to discuss the damage caused by heavy rain across the state. Ministers and officials concerned will take part in the meeting.

Meanwhile, CM Bommai who had called off Janotsava, a mega event at Doddaballapura to mark the completion of his one year in office, is now planning to celebrate the event at district and region level.

Disease anxiety drives visits to dermatologists

SHILPA P @ Bengaluru

WITH four cases of monkeypox reported in India -- one in Delhi and three cases, including one death, in Kerala -- anxious patients with skin issues are visiting dermatologists, seeking reassurance that it is not connected to monkeypox.

Though the numbers are not alarming, people with minor skin ailments are rushing to consult dermatologists, out of fear of monkeypox. Dr Girish Panth, senior consultant dermatologist, Apollo Hospitals, said there is an increase in consultations by patients with viral rash cases, including suspected chickenpox, and mainly by concerned parents of children with suspected hand, foot and mouth disease. "They ask for preventive strategies and availability of vaccines," he said, adding that there should be more monkeypox testing laboratories.

According to Dr Sunil Kumar Prabhu, consultant dermatologist and aesthetic physician, Aster RV Hospitals, at least 25 per cent of Covid patients develop rashes due to hypersensitivity to the virus. "They too are worried if those rashes are related to monkeypox," he said.

Dr Sowmya M, consultant - dermatology, Manipal Hospital, Sarjapur, said, "Since last week, we are seeing an increase in the number of patients of all age groups with blisters on the skin. A few of them had travel history to foreign countries. Though many have only skin symptoms without fever, body pain or cough, we have put four children under observation."

She added that while chickenpox is often confused with monkeypox, chickenpox lesions are itchy.

TEST KITS BUT NO SAMPLES AT BMCRI LAB

Virus Research and Diagnostic Laboratory at Bengaluru Medical College and Research Institute has received testing kits for monkeypox. However, they have not received any further samples for testing. Meanwhile, Infectious Disease Research Foundation has begun sewage surveillance for monkeypox at Bengaluru International Airport on Monday.

Protests limited to Freedom Park, action against violators: HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court directed the state government and the authorities concerned to implement Licensing and Regulation of Protests, Demonstrations and Protest Marches (Bengaluru City) Order, 2021, and continue to take action against persons committing violations. The order, framed under Section 31 (4) Karnataka Police Act 1963, allows protests, demonstrations and marches only at Freedom Park and not in other parts of city to avoid inconvenience to citizens.

With these directions, a division bench of acting Chief Justice Alok Aradhe and Justice S Vishwajith Shetty disposed the suo moto litigation initiated based on a letter written to the chief justice by a sitting judge of the high court after a dharna held on March 2, 2021, in the heart of the city made traffic stand still, and leading to inconvenience to citizens.

The state government has also given an undertaking before the court that the protest marches and dharnas will only be permitted at Freedom Park and that the government is under an obligation to ensure the provisions of the order.

In pursuance of the directions issued by the court after the suo moto registration of the petition, the state has framed Licensing and Regulation of Protests, Demonstrations and Protest Marches (Bengaluru City) Order, 2021 in exercise of powers under section 31 (4) Karnataka Police Act 1963. Placing it before the court, the state government informed that action will be taken against any person found to be violating the provisions of the order.

The state government has also placed on record a status report stating that 27 criminal cases have been registered against the persons who had violated the orders.

Upa Lokayukta visit: Girl hostellers now have better facilities

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

AROUND 80 inmates of Post Matric Girls Hostel in Ramanagara, around 50km from the city, now have reason to smile – their living conditions in the hostel have improved, thanks to Upa Lokayukta Justice KN Phaneendra.

There is sufficient quality food as per the menu chart, special meals during national festivals, fans and cots have been repaired, there are pillows and bedsheets, computers with network, power backup, sanitary napkins, incinerators...everything the girls wanted.

Students had complained that they were not provided sufficient quantity or quality food, and were often given only rice which was sticky and had worms in it. If the girls pointed it out, they were told to eat at Indira Canteens.

Upa Lokayukta Justice KN Phaneendra exposed the abysmal administration of the hostel and poor infrastructure during a surprise visit in July, and passed the order to address the grievances of the students. Now, the district administration has woken from its deep slumber and submitted a compliance report to Justice Phaneendra by fulfilling the requirements of the hostel.

The inmates complained that they were not provided sufficient quantity or quality food, and were often given only rice which was sticky and had worms in it. If the girls pointed it out, they were told to throw the food and eat at Indira Canteens. The girls had several grievances, including that idli/dosa was not prepared on the pretext that there was no grinder. TNIE had carried a report with the title 'Worms in rice, no pillows or fans: Karnataka Upa Lokayukta finds Ramanagara girls hostel a mess' on July 9.

According to the compliance report submitted by the Assistant Director of Social Welfare Department on 23 issues pointed out by the Upa Lokayukta, it was stated that steps were taken to disburse salary on the 5th of every month to cooks and provide breakfast, lunch, snacks and dinner as per the menu chart.

Gas stoves and grinders were provided, toilets were cleaned and sufficient water supply ensured, fans and bulbs were fixed, mosquito nets were provided, cots repaired, two new computers with BSNL network were set up and two existing ones were repaired, books were stocked in the library, bills were paid to ensure uninterrupted power supply, and 5KV UPS power backup was also provided.

Satisfied with the steps taken, Justice Phaneendra felt it is necessary to extend the benefits to all other hostels maintained by the social welfare department in the district.

HC quashes case against KAS officer, says lower court did not apply mind

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

OBSERVING that granting approval for setting the criminal law in motion cannot be a frolicsome act, as done by the State, the Karnataka High Court quashed the order granting permission to conduct investigation against senior KAS officer Shreeroopa. The court said it does not bear any semblance of application of mind.

Shreeroopa, then Deputy Secretary-2 of Bangalore Development Authority (BDA) was charged under the Prevention of Corruption Act, for executing a sale deed in favour of an allottee, in terms of the resolution passed by the BDA during her predecessor's period, a decade ago. Allowing the petition filed by Shreeroopa, challenging the order passed by the state government on April 21, 2022, Justice M Nagaprasanna said the order in question does not bear any application of mind, and would lose its legal legs to stand on. As a result, it would be obliterated. He quashed the FIR registered by the Anti-Corruption Bureau (ACB), as the stay granted to the order in question was not informed to the investigating agency.

As per the BDA resolution dated October 5, 2007, the lease-cum-sale agreement was executed on June 26, 2009. After about 10 years, a sale deed is executed by the BDA in furtherance of lease-cum-sale agreement. This triggered the registration of a complaint by one M Narayanaswamy to the Special Task Force, BDA, in November 2021, alleging that all the family members of Hanumamma have been granted a site, contrary to their entitlement.

Fire Incidents Not Just For IACs, Naval Ships Across the World Prone Too

GIRISH LINGANNA

INS Vikrant, India's first indigenously built aircraft carrier (IAC), will be commissioned shortly-a matter of pride for the nation, but on the other hand, INS Vikramaditya-one of the largest aircraft carriers in the world has recently suffered a fire on board. As the Indo-Pacific becomes the eye of the storm, India cannot be drydocking its carriers.

The fire incidents

The amount of the damage is not known, but the incident has been described as minor and quickly suppressed. According to the officials, the incident occurred when the carrier was operating off the strategic Karwar base in Karnataka.

This is the third time a fire has affected the Indian Navy's operational status. In April 2019, a fire broke out in the boiler room, killing a navy officer from smoke inhalation and injuring many others while battling the blaze. A second fire broke out in May 2021, when the ship was being refitted.

Fire incidents are not unique to Indian Navy Ships

Top U.S. Navy officers were dismissed following the 2008 fire onboard the USS George Washington (CVN-73) aircraft carrier. According to Naval Sea Systems Command, by 2021, the U.S. Navy had suffered 15 major onboard fires since 2008, with total repairs and replacement costs of more than $6 billion. Three of those events included arson, the Bonhomme Richard in 2020, the amphibious assault ship USS Iwo Jima (LHD-7) in 2019, and the attack submarine USS Miami (SSN-775) in 2012.

In April 2020, China's first Type 075 landing helicopter dock (LHD) caught fire. This was a visible fire. China does not disclose lesser fires on their navy ships.

In 2021, a fire on the Provorny corvette under construction for the Russian Navy had spread to 800 square meters, almost the entire corvette, resulting in complete gutting of the wheelhouse and tower-mast structure.

Indian Navy and upkeep of its aircraft carrier

The Indian Navy has operated the aircraft carrier for about half a decade, and it cannot be accused of unprofessionalism over the upkeep of the aircraft carrier. A boiler blast on the former INS Vikrant had confined its operations to the Eastern Seaboard but enviably performed its duties without an incident during the war.

INS Vikramaditya is as good as a brand new carrier

Soviet Union's Kiev class had a unique design. The front one-third was a heavy cruiser, with 12 giant SS-N-12 anti-ship missiles, up to 192 surface-to-air missiles and two 100-millimetre deck guns. The remaining ship was an aircraft carrier with a hangar and flight deck.

Russia inherited a Kiev class vessel after USSR's dissolution in 1991 and rechristened her Admiral Gorshkov. A lack of maintenance resulted in a boiler room explosion leading to Admiral Gorshkov's decommission in 1996. At the same time, the Indian Navy's only carrier INS Viraat was set to retire in 2007. New Delhi was in the market for a replacement.

The only countries building carriers were building ships too big for India's chequebook at the time. In 2004, a deal was struck between India and Russia in which India would receive Admiral Gorshkov for free. However, India would pay $974 million for upgrades. Admiral Gorshkov was a colossal ship at 44,500 tons. It would be transformed from a helicopter carrier to an aircraft carrier with a launch ramp and a flight deck, capable of supporting up to 10 Kamov helicopters and 24 MiG-29K fighters.

Upgrades would include new radars, new boilers for propulsion, new arrestor wires for catching landing aircraft and new deck elevators. All 2,700 rooms and compartments would be refurbished with new wiring throughout the ship. The "new" carrier would be called Vikramaditya, after an ancient Indian king.

India bought the second-hand hull in 2004 for virtually free but had to pay for the upgrade and refit of the ship. The Gorshkov was converted from a hybrid to a pure carrier after all missile launcher tubes and weaponry was removed from the foredeck for a "short take-off but arrested recovery" (STOBAR) configuration.

But deals like this don't perform well during implementation. After many negotiations over cost escalations and delivery dates, INS Vikramaditya was commissioned in November 2013 and joined the Indian Navy in June 2014. It marked a happy ending for the Indian Navy. Nevertheless, we have a 20-storey ship that can carry 26 MiG-29K fighters, 10 ASW helicopters, 110 officers & 1500 sailors, generating 1,80,000 HP to propel it to 25,000 km at maximum speeds of 59 kmph & can stay in the sea for 45 days altogether.

Under warranty

Concerning current issues, INS Vikramaditya is still under warranty so that any shortcomings would be adequately addressed, and this problem is not limited to this case; it almost always occurs with any operationally deployed ship around the world, which is why every contract includes a guarantee period and maintenance clause.

The warranty contract specifies a service life of 20 years for INS Vikramaditya. However, India believes this service life might increase to 40 years.

The case for the third carrier

Right from the independence, the Indian Navy planned for two carriers to be operational and one in drydock. The requirement has not been achieved till now. Now, this operational requirement is within grasp as India can build carriers, as in the case of the newer INS Vikrant. It is time India expedites the building of IAC-2 and ensures that the gained carrier building expertise is not lost.

Post-Covid, bounce back in state's wig industry

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

AS Marishetty Kumar is busy making wig at his shop near Kurubarahalli in Mahalakshmi Layout, there is joy on his face. He has found work after a long pause on his business due to the Covid-19 pandemic. Now, post-pandemic, people working in the wig-making industry including hair pickers, are able to earn a livelihood.

In Karnataka, there are about 1,900 hair pickers who are associated with Hasiru Dala, an NGO that works with waste pickers by giving them jobs. Meenakshi M, who works with the NGO, told The New Indian Express that hair pickers collect hair from dry waste where people dispose hair and also from people's houses. They buy hair by paying a meagre amount and sometimes give small vessels in exchange for hair. They collect and segregate grey and black hair and sell it to wholesale dealers.

According to Meenakshi, the price of hair had dipped to Rs 2,500 per kg during the pandemic which has now increased to Rs 5,000. "On an average, each hair picker collects quarter kg of hair and on a monthly basis it crosses five to six kg of hair. It is even exported to different countries, including China.

The wig makers and exporters are also a happy lot post-pandemic. "The texture and colour of Indian hair is different from western people. In the last few years, our business took a beating. I used to make two to three wigs a month when the pandemic was at its peak. Most of it was meant for cancer patients. Things are now improving as I end up making 12 to 15 wigs a month. Wigs made here are sent to Lucknow, Kolkata and Delhi," Jairaj N R , a wig maker said.

Kumar says he buys hair from Tirupathi at Rs 25,000 per kg and sometimes the price shoots up to Rs 85,000 per kg, depending on the length of the hair. "We can make five to six wigs with one kg of hair, and each wig is sold for Rs 10,000 onwards and can even go beyond Rs 25,000" he said.

Kumar hails from Malavalli where Shimsha Falls is located where many artistes wear wigs while shooting for Kannada and other language movies. He went to Chennai along with a wig artist there and learnt the art of making wigs.

"As we have restarted our business which is a small industry, we request the government to provide us with some facilities like ESI," he said.

NIA begins probe into Praveen Nettaru murder; team visits Kerala too; DGP Praveen Sood seeks details from public

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mangaluru

THE National Investigation Agency (NIA) has launched the probe into the murder of BJP worker Praveen Nettaru. A team of NIA officials have arrived in Dakshina Kannada and have been gathering information regarding the murder.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai confirmed the same. Speaking to media persons in Bengaluru, he said the process to hand over the investigation to the NIA is on and soon the case would be handed over to them. However, he said the NIA has already been intimated informally and they are engaged in gathering preliminary information in Mangaluru and Kerala. The CM said that he would be visiting the families of Masood and Mohammed Fazil too in the coming days.

Meanwhile, DGP Praveen Sood, who was in Mangaluru on Monday, said the local police will continue the investigation into Praveen's murder to an extent until its handed over to NIA. Sood, who held a meeting with top police officers in the district, told reporters that they discussed measures to prevent such murders in the coming days. He said they have proposed to increase the sanctioned police strength in Dakshina Kannada and increase surveillance along the Kerala border. "We have sought 150 more constables and head constables especially to increase surveillance on 40 roads on the inter-state border," he said.

On BJP MLA Bharath Shetty threatening to protest in front of Police Commissioner's office if innocents are arrested in Fazil's murder case, Sood asked how can one say that they are innocents. "We will arrest the suspects and if they are innocent, then they will be left out from the chargesheet," he said.

Further, he appealed the public and politicians to join hands with the police and share any information they have about the murders. "There will be someone who will have some information. If they share the same, it will help detect the crime. If not, it means they are part of the crime," he said.

Not discriminated against anyone: CM

DAVANAGERE: "BJP is a national party and treats everyone equally. We have not discriminated against anyone and allegations against us are baseless," said CM Basavaraj Bommai, commenting on BJP's Yuva Morcha workers resigning en masse. WILL PACIFY ANGRY WORKERS: CT RAVI

ENS @ Bengaluru

AS a large number of Bharatiya Janata Yuva Morcha workers tendered their resignation over the death of one of their leaders in Dakshina Kannada, BJP National General Secretary CT Ravi on Monday said there is no question of giving up any of their cadre. "Ours is a cadre-based party and workers are our assets. There has been some disaffection, for some individually and for others collectively. But we have to remember that the party is ours." "We will talk to the workers and take them into confidence. There is no question of keeping anyone away. Every worker who fought for the cause even during the party's difficult times is the property of our party. There are lakhs of workers who are not even panchayat members, but have put the party in power," said Ravi, who was addressing the media at Vidhana Soudha.

"We are a party with 18 crore members. No one should go away because of our mistakes. I will tell them that we have to fight against our ideological opponents. There may have been a lot of anger for a number of reasons. It is our duty to pacify the workers," he added. In Congress, there are more than half-a-dozen chief ministerial aspirants. Senior leader Veerappa Moily too has said it will be appropriate if SR Patil becomes chief minister, Ravi commented. "But we will come back to power. Our choice of leader will be based on the decision of the legislature party and parliamentary board. We will fight the elections under Bommai's leadership," he said.

Will protest if culprits not arrested by Aug 5: HDK

MANGALURU: JDS leader HD Kumaraswamy on Monday gave an ultimatum to the State Government till August 5 to arrest the "real culprits" behind the three murders failing which he threatened to hold a dharna in Mangaluru on August 6. After meeting the families of Masood, Praveen Nettaru and Mohammed Fazil, he said, "I want to restore peace here and take this to a logical end. I have no selfish motives behind this." Kumaraswamy accused the BJP and Congress of reaping dividends through such murders and said that it needs to be stopped. "In the name of Hindutva and building Hindu Rashtra, they are creating unrest. Why only youth of weaker sections die in such incidents and not the children of ministers or leaders?" he asked. Coming down heavily on CM Basavaraj Bommai for not meeting the families of Masood and Fazil, Kumarswamy said, "He seemed to have visited the district just to impress someone. You (Bommai) had taken an oath stating that you will not discriminate and will treat all equally," he said. ENS

'Set up special fast-track court to probe killings'

MANGALURU: Deputy Leader of Congress Legislature Party UT Khader on Monday demanded that the State Government set up a special fast-track court and investigate the three recent murders in Dakshina Kannada. Addressing the media, Khader said that the BJP government has completely failed to nab the killers. "The three murders have instilled fear in the minds of people... but the present government has failed to take strict action against the anti-societal forces. Their own minister says that the culprits must be encountered. Who has stopped them? NIA probe is just an eyewash," he said. "They (the government) have assured to come up with a law against 'Love Jihad' and cattle trafficking. Similarly. let they come up with a law for prevention of communal violence and later let them bulldoze or seize the properties of the accused as claimed by them," he added. ENS

State collects Rs 10K cr GST

BANSY KALAPPA
@ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA in July collected close to ₹10,000 crore GST, 45% higher than the same period last year. This is the highest amount recovered by any state for the month, as compared to other large states — Maharashtra, Gujarat, Tamil Nadu and undivided Andhra Pradesh. Over the last few months, Karnataka has demonstrated that it is second only to Maharashtra in GST collection.

Some experts wondered whether Karnataka could have earned more revenues under the previous non-GST regime. They questioned whether GST has been useful now that it has been 61 months since it was adopted.

Former National Finance Commission member Prof Govinda Rao said, "In Karnataka, there were no problems in 2017-18 and 2018-19, though GST did not turn out to be a money machine. After 2019-20, problems started, mainly because the technology platform had not stabilised. But the Centre's compensation came to the rescue. The compensation at 14% was generous. From 2020-21 revenues fell as Covid struck and compensation was not paid fully."

Commercial Tax Commissioner C Shikha said, "While switching over to GST, a growth rate of 14% was anticipated and the gap was filled by releasing compensation. Karnataka has not lost anything in these five years. But major beneficiaries are the taxpayers as multiplicity of taxes has gone."

B'day bash may set pace for Cong ahead of polls

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE big-ticket Siddaramaiah's 75th birthday bash in Davanagere on Wednesday will turn out to be a massive Congress rally with the presence of senior party leader Rahul Gandhi at the event.

This will be a major precursor to the 2023 Assembly elections, and party leaders of all shades, the MLAs and prospective candidates from all the 224 Assembly constituencies are mobilising workers and supporters to take part in the rally.

"They are not taking any chances as both Siddaramaiah and Rahul will be there at the event," a party source said.

The dais too has been built to accommodate hundreds of VIPs as all leaders of relevance will be given prominence according to their seniority. This is just the start of poll preparations as the party rank and file have already started organising masses for another flagship event, 'Bharat Jodo Yatra', to mark the 75th anniversary of India's Independence where a 75 km walkathon will be taken out.

Rahul, DKS may have one-on-one

Rahul and KPCC president DK Shivakumar are likely to have a one-on-one meeting when they are flying in a chartered flight from New Delhi to Hubballi on Tuesday evening. Shivakumar will be in Delhi on Tuesday as he has to appear before a special court, which is scheduled to pronounce an order with regard to his regular bail plea as he is out on an interim bail in a money laundering case filed by the ED.

"Shivakumar is confident of getting the pronouncement in his favour as there have been precedents of accused in such money laundering cases getting bail. His counsel will argue that since he is not in power, there is no chance of him tampering with the evidence," they added.

As Rahul is arriving in Hubballi to take part in the party's Political Affairs Committee (PAC) meeting slated for 8 pm, both will be flying in the same chartered plane, which is taking off from Delhi around 5.30 pm, sources said.

It will be interesting to see what the two will discuss as they will be on the flight for over one hour. At the PAC meeting, party senior leaders will discuss how the state has turned communally sensitive after three back-to-back murders in coastal areas and the strategies that need to be adopted for the polls.

Congress sets up manifesto panel to fight 2023 elections

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI

WITH less than a year to go for Assembly elections in Karnataka, the state Congress has set up a 'manifesto, policy and vision committee-2023' with former Deputy CM Dr G Parameshwara as the chairperson and Prof KE Radhakrishna and Madhu Bangarappa as vice-chairmen. "The committee will learn about people's aspirations to include in the party's manifesto and will discuss issues like the Anti-Conversion Bill and GST before preparing the draft," Parameshwara said.

"The State Government mismanaged the pandemic. Since the economy is in a bad shape our manifesto will include ideas that will trigger growth to bring the economy back on track," Radhakrishna said. He hinted at the party setting up a 'stability fund' to tackle future pandemics and natural disasters effectively, if voted to power. Radhakrishna was the convenor of the Congress manifesto committee ahead of the 2013 Assembly polls. The party had won the elections and Siddaramaiah took charge as the CM. He said the committee will come out with a draft manifesto in three months after discussing with the Congress high command.

HDK meets all victims' families, sends out message of JDS being alternative

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Bengaluru

WHILE central and state leaders of BJP are trying to tide over the prevailing politically sensitive situation in the state, even as Congress continues to witness internal bickering over the chief minister's post, JDS is looking to emerge as the alternative ahead of the 2023 Assembly elections in Karnataka.

Party senior leader HD Kumaraswamy visited the coastal region on Monday in the wake of three murders in Dakshina Kannada. Kumaraswamy, who has been predicting early polls, is on a state-wide tour, visiting Kalaburagi and JDS stronghold Mandya in recent days.

While BJP leaders, including Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, visited the family of the victim of their own party, Kumaraswamy met families of victims of all groups and offered help and support. "Both the national parties, in order to gain political mileage, have selfishly indulged in activities sacrificing the peace in Dakshina Kannada," he alleged.

> Both the national parties, in order to gain political mileage, have selfishly indulged in activities sacrificing the peace in Dakshina Kannada district
>
> HD Kumaraswamy, JDS leader and former CM

According to a senior JDS leader, "Our party will gain from this situation as we hold national parties responsible for the unrest here."

Though Kumaraswamy is focusing only on 123 of the total 224 seats in the next Assembly polls, chances of his party fielding candidates from more seats cannot be ruled out. This will upset the prospects of other party contestants, especially from Congress, he added.

In the recent Assembly polls in North India, national parties lost many seats, albeit by a narrow margin. A similar situation may arise in Karnataka too, where JDS could emerge as the kingmaker, he observed.

Kumaraswamy has sent out a clear message that JDS is the alternative to two national parties, with new entrants such as AAP concentrating only on a few seats in certain regions.

Anjanadri Hills is Lord Hanuman's birthplace, reiterates CM

SHREEPADA AYACHIT @ Koppal

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Monday reiterated that Anjanadri Hills in Koppal district is the birthplace of Lord Hanuman. "I can say this a thousand times," Bommai said before offering prayers at the base of Anjanadri Hills. There is a temple dedicated to Lord Hanuman atop the hillock. Bommai countered the claims of Andhra Pradesh and Maharashtra which claimed that the birthplace of Lord Hanuman is located in their respective states. "The State Government will also pursue the issue with the Union Government to declare Anjanadri Hills as the birthplace of Lord Hanuman," the CM said. All mythological evidence and relevant records, including references in Ramayana, clearly establish that Kishkinda Parvata or Anjanadri Hills is Lord Hanuman's birthplace , he added.

Bommai said infrastructure will be developed at the hillock. A ropeway is being mulled to help devotees reach the Hanuman temple which can now only be reached by climbing over 500 steps. "While ₹24 crore has been set aside to acquire 60 acres of land for comprehensive development of the Anjanadri Hills. The area will be upgraded as a tourist spot of international standard," he said. "Also, Rs 120 crore has been set aside in the two previous budgets. World heritage sites Hampi, Anegundi and Mysuru will be covered under the international tourism circuit for state-of-the-art tourism development of international standards," Bommai added.

Tremors at Nandi Hills, but K'taka govt keen on ropeway

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka government is keen to go ahead and implement the first-ever ropeway project at Nandi Hills, though the idea has been dropped at Chamundi Hills, due to stiff opposition from locals and environmentalists.

The tourism department is now working on calling for tenders, as a third company has shown interest in the ropeway project at the hill station, 61km from the city centre. Tourism department officials told The New Indian Express: "Work on the ground will start within two or three months. We are waiting for environment clearance from the forest department, as forest land needs to be diverted for it. A survey of the extent of land which needs to be acquired is also to start."

However, forest officials and locals state that the project should be stalled, more so in the wake of seismic activities being reported in the region.

"There have been many tremors in and around Chikkaballapur and other surrounding areas. So it is important to not just have an environment report on the effect of axing trees and diverting forest land, but a detailed study of the impact of drilling and erecting pillars and structures on the fragile landscape. We are suggesting the need for a detailed private third party inspection, but no one is taking note of it," said an official from the Karnataka forest department.

In February 2022, the cabinet had cleared the project at a cost of Rs 93.40 crore, with 18 pillars over a distance of 2.93km.

According to officials from the Karnataka State Tourism Development Corporation, the weekend turnover at Nandi Hills is around Rs 5 lakh, which includes hotel guests, day visits and restaurant sales. "With the introduction of a ropeway, the turnover will increase multifold. Nandi Hills has high tourist potential and it should be explored to the maximum," said the official.

While officials at the Mines and Geology department said there was a need for a seismic study in the region, especially when such a mega project is planned, they also stated that so far, they were not consulted for any assessment.

It may be recollected that last year, a landslide was reported in Nandi Hills and Devarayaadurga, due to heavy rainfall. Rockfall was also reported in the region. There have also been mild earthquakes and tremors in Chikkaballapur in 2021, and earthquakes measuring 2.6 and 2.4 on the Richter scale were reported in May 2022.

Qaeda recruited them for global jihad

THE arrests made following a joint operation carried out by the Central Crime Branch (CCB) and Intelligence Bureau (IB) is yet another extremely disturbing development of alleged radicalisation of youth for global jihad.

According to highly-placed sources, Akhtar and Zuba were reportedly "identified by the banned global terror organisation - Al Qaeda (AQ) for global jihad. AQ is looking for recruits in the age-group of 20 to 30 years across countries, who are willing to sacrifice their lives for global jihad. Once identified, the recruits are tested for their readiness. They are trained after their handlers are satisfied with their commitment," said sources.

"Akhtar and Zuba were arrested just a few days before they were instructed to cross over to Pakistan on way to Afghanistan for weapon training by AQ.

They would have undergone a year-long training in the conflict-torn region after which their handlers had assured them that they would be made emir and responsible for one area. It could be anywhere in the world," said sources.

Agencies have also taken the warning of AQ's fugitive chief Ayman al- Zawahiri to India on two occasions this year seriously, in which he has threatened to carry out retaliatory attacks including suicide bombing. The jihadist organisation's last India-centric speech was made in 2014, to announce the formation of al-Qaeda in the Indian Subcontinent (AQIS).

FOREST DEPT PLANS NEW SAFARI ROUTES IN NAGARAHOLE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Madikeri

WITH an increased number of tourists opting for wildlife safari at Nagarahole Wildlife Sanctuary, the Kodagu division of the forest department has devised new plans to promote wildlife tourism in the district. Two new safari routes are being planned at the sanctuary adding to the existing three entry points to fulfill the wildlife quest. However, this move has not gone down well with farmers and environmentalists of the district. The new safari route has been planned at Majjige Halla near Thithimathi and this will enable smooth entry of the tourists coming in from Mysuru and Kerala parts. The new route also promises to provide an exciting view of the wildlife including the spotting of leopards and tigers. Another route is being planned near Anechowkuru near Muthuru village.

Recently, CCF B S Murthy and other forest officials took part in the foundation stone laying ceremony for the project and they confirmed that the new routes will take shape before the end of this year. "Two new routes are being planned to enable smooth wildlife safari tours at Nagarahole. Tourists from Mysuru and visitors from Kodagu will get easy access to the sanctuary. The work for the new routes has begun and will be completed by December," confirmed Mahesh Kumar, DCF, Nagarahole.

However, this move by the department has met with opposition from the farmers who fear that the increased tourist flow to the sanctuary will result in increased wildlife conflicts across the villages.

"The man-tiger conflict is increasing and this move of opening more routes to the sanctuary is like pouring oil into the burning fire. Increased safari routes mean development of safari roads inside the sanctuary. Since tigers are shy animals, increased movement in the sanctuary will force tigers to move to forest fringes where they will find easy cattle prey. While the adivasis and other tribes were evicted from the forest in the name of environment protection, it is ironic that the department is promoting mass tourism inside the sanctuary," opined Manu Somaiah, state vice-president and district president of Karnataka Rajya Raitha Sangha.

PLAN EARLY TO PREVENT ANOTHER LOVLINA-LIKE ISSUE

A short but disturbing tweet was doing the rounds before the Commonwealth Games began in Birmingham. Olympic bronze medallist Lovlina Borgohain had tweeted about mental harassment. "...I want to tell everyone about the continuous harassment going on with me. The coaches who helped me win an Olympic medal are always being sidelined, which has severely impacted my training." The coach in question is Sandhya Gurung. She was there at the Tokyo 2020 Olympics when Lovlina won bronze. This time she was not given access to the Games Village, where athletes stay. The Boxing Federation of India explained that was because of restrictions on the number of support staff allowed inside the Village. Only one-third of the contingent is permitted. That is four since 12 boxers qualified. BFI said they managed to raise the number to eight because of the nature of the sport. Still, they could not find a place for Gurung. The sports ministry requested the Indian Olympic Association (IOA) to get her the necessary accreditation. Finally, she got it, but IOA acting president Anil Khanna later said that "it is difficult to satisfy Indian athletes". His statement, though avoidable at this point, may hold some water. Gurung was accommodated but at the cost of a doctor, who is equally a key member. Lovlina is a top boxer, and we need to protect her. We must also consider that a person of not too many words, she was perhaps left with no choice.

This is nothing new. Athletes complain about such issues whenever there is a multi-discipline mega-event like the Olympics or the Asian Games. During the Olympics, Vinesh Phogat, Manika Batra, and Bajrang Punia, to name a few, raised such issues. It happened during the Rio Olympics too. There have been occasions when IOA officials who have little to do with teams were allowed inside the Village.

Exceptions exist despite restrictions since IOA and sports federations would want to please their voting members. With sharper scrutiny of the sports ministry and social media, this has reduced over the years, yet there are occasions when officials sneak in. Khanna might be peeved with athletes' attitudes, but all it takes is a little planning to avoid such embarrassments.

CHOLERA SCARE IN ODISHA YET AGAIN

Cholera is back to haunt Odisha again. One thought the 2007 outbreak—the largest in the last two decades—was a thing of the past, but the latest recurrence has déjà vu written all over it. Scores of villages in at least five districts reported daily incidence. Over a dozen persons have succumbed to it to date. Of course, the official numbers are lower. It began in Rayagada, the district at the epicentre of the outbreak 15 years ago, before the water-borne disease spread to neighbouring districts. Tribal-dominated regions, where the social indicators are not flattering, have again borne the brunt of this year's outbreak, exposing gaping holes in the State's healthcare delivery system. The administration was found wanting and swung into action only when people began to die of the disease.

Cholera is endemic to Odisha, and Vibrio cholera, the bacteria responsible for it, has reported multiple strains across various districts in past years. A research paper published by the Cambridge University Press last year revealed that the State reported at least 30 outbreaks between 2000 and 2014. The worst was in 2007 when it affected just 8,000-odd people but claimed 162 lives. In 2014, over 46,000 people were infected.

A disease that once was associated with India's impoverished state during the British Raj, cholera's outbreak in 2022 does not sit well with Odisha, which aspires to climb up the Sustainable Development Goal (SDG) ladder. In the World Health Organisation's words, the disease remains a global threat to public health and an indicator of inequity and lack of social development. Much as it is about poor health care delivery, cholera has focused on access to safe drinking water and sanitation practices which is why its recurrence in districts predominantly inhabited by tribal communities shows the State's social sectors in poor light. The government may have been bragging about its model health insurance or drink-from-tap schemes, but it has much work to do to ensure safe drinking water for people at the farthest mile and prevent the loss of lives from this easily preventable disease.

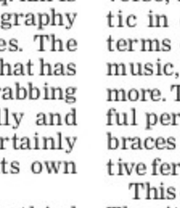
THE SPECIAL URBAN TERRITORY OF BENGALURU



HARISH BIJOOR
Brand Guru & Founder, Harish Bijoor Consults Inc

SOUMYADIP SINHA

If there is any one Indian city that is spoken of quite a bit today, it is Bengaluru. For many reasons, really. Some good, some bad, and some ugly.

Bengaluru is a buzz, both in the media and off it. This Bengaluru talk exists both in the cocktail and corporate circuits of the country, as it does at the ground level among those who really live, thrive, suffer and bear through the city and what it has to offer today. The city, like any other, has two manifestations. One is an image in the minds of those who don't live in the city, and the other is what people there think of it. Sadly, both these images merge and seem to concur. This megacity of our day is in shambles today.

Let me define the city for a start. The quiet "Pensioner's paradise" of yore, which used to have "TO LET" boards in front of homes desperate to be rented, is today a buzzing megacity that has galloped beyond the wildest imagination of its planners.

The megacity of 741 sq. km is today outrun in its geography by more than ten times. The city is now a tarantula that has spread its tentacles, grabbing space both horizontally and vertically. And it is certainly caught in a web. Of its own making.

Bengaluru is India's third most populous city, with an estimated 13 million people. Add another million who come in and go out of it every day, and you have a city that is alive, buzzing, thriving and today crying.

The city is in the limelight. Everyone wants to have a piece of Bengaluru in their business plan. This is a high-net-worth urban agglomeration. The last track of Metro GDP (PPP) stood at USD 110 billion. The city generates a robust number in terms of direct taxes, is dubbed to be a "fiery consumption market" by most marketers, and is considered cutting-edge (if not bleeding-edge) in terms of the kinds of technologies that rule the roost in its tech hubs.

On the softer side, then, the city has a totally enviable weather pattern. Every time the temperature hits the hot button, the Bengaluru thermostat kicks in, and there is rain. Even as I write this, the city has just skipped a whole summer, much to the salivating jealousy of everyone in every other hot Indian city.

The city is considered diverse, secular and non-jingoistic in every way, whether in terms of food, dressing style, music, language, religion and more. The Kannadiga is a peaceful person, inclusive, and embraces all without bias or negative fervour.

This combination has worked. The city provides an ecosystem of comfort for businesses of every kind and people from all over India and the world. The city boasts of a huge expatriate community with food hubs that have emerged to cater to very specific tastes, be it Korean, Japanese or Mandarin. There is something in Bengaluru for everyone, never mind where you come from. To an extent, Bengaluru boasts the largest menu of living and thriving options any Indian city can offer. No wonder the city is dubbed the Startup capital of India, with its thriving idea-hubs that meet equally thriving funding houses waiting for those big ideas to fund, gestate and bring to fruition.

As Bengaluru booms in so many positive ways, it moves to the point of a negative bust in as many ways. The city is stressed. The big city has its big problems. The biggest one of them is the traffic the city hosts. The current population of 104 lakh vehicles in the city needs to find its way literally every day across a stretch of congested roads that just can't take it. Add to it the fact that the city is in a work-in-progress mode for the last three years, putting drainage and roads and footpaths together. City roads are undeniably the worst you can use in any Indian city. And every rain worsens it more. Add the fact that the very many bodies that coordinate city efforts, such as the BBMP, the BWSSB, the BESCOM (and more) don't really talk to one another as much as they must. Add the fact that there is a population boom. Add the fact that the band-aid solution is the one that is applied first and forever whenever there is a problem to solve. I can go on adding much more but will stop here for now.

> One cannot give up on Bengaluru. One must own it and drive change. There are two types of people who possibly live in any city. One lives there to make the best out of it. The other lives there to make it the best it can be. Those who own the city fall in the latter category. It is time to mobilise positive intent to get Bengaluru back on the rails. A derailed city is good for no one in the long term

The key point to remember is that the city has grown far beyond its imagination and ability to manage its growth. Politely put, Bengaluru remains a city where its software is world-class and its hardware belongs to the past. A very distant past. In terms of software, Bengaluru is the intellectual capital of India, but in terms of sheer infrastructure and the will shown to manage it, it is completely pathetic. Citizens who live in it often do wonder whether everyone has given up on Bengaluru.

And that very thought and question must rouse us to action. One cannot give up on Bengaluru. One must own it and drive change. There are two types of people who possibly live in any city. One lives there to make the best out of it. The other lives there to make it the best it can be. Those who own the city fall in the latter category. It is time to mobilise positive intent to get Bengaluru back on the rails. A derailed city is good for no one in the long term.

Is there a solution I would like to offer after this long rant? Maybe yes. You just might not like it. But let me say it out loud. The biggest radical solution that can sort Bengaluru and its myriad problems out in a flat three years does exist. Make Bengaluru a Special Urban Territory by statute, under the governance ambit of the Government of Karnataka.

Get the attention of the best local, national and global administrative minds to plan, solve, implement and evaluate the burning issues of the day on a war footing. Give this entity the power to implement the will of the people. Create a citizen audit structure to evaluate it all. Allow this to flourish for a while—possibly a couple of decades. And see how this city blossoms.

Tough and enduring problems need tough solutions. The Special Urban Territory of Bengaluru is one such.

EXCHANGE RATES AND OUR INHERENT WEAKNESS

KARAN BHASIN
New York-based economist

Over the last several days, one has come across headlines about the rupee weakening. For the unaware, these headlines would convince them about the decline in the value of the rupee even as the rupee has strengthened against the Euro, UK Pound and Japan's Yen. How does one reconcile with these two events?

Well, the rupee hasn't weakened, but it has in fact, witnessed an appreciation against a broader class of currencies—the dollar not being one of them. In fact, more than this, it is the US dollar that has gained strength—a fact that is visible when one looks at the dollar–euro or the dollar–pound exchange values.

The extensive coverage of the USD-INR exchange values without any context seem to suggest a repeat of the taper tantrum episode. But it ignores the fact that during the Taper Tantrum, India belonged to one of the fragile five economies, and the rupee was weakening against a much broader set of currencies. This is precisely why commentary and headlines that mention "rupee weakens", etc., are incorrect and, as a matter of fact, it ignores the value of the rupee and the global economic context. The rupee's value is not to be measured just against the US dollar but against a broader basket of currencies that make up the Real and Nominal Effective Exchange Rate indices.

In fact, in percentage terms, both during the Global Financial Crisis and the Taper Tantrum episode, the rupee depreciated by 28%. During the Asian crisis, it depreciated by 22%. Since the Ukraine war, this depreciation has been at 7–8%. Therefore, even by historical standards, the rupee seems to have done rather well.

The dollar gaining strength has more to do with global factors, primarily as the Fed increases interest rates over the course of the coming financial year. It is, therefore, naïve to infer about the health of the rupee by looking at the India-US exchange rate. With considerable uncertainty regarding inflation and, therefore, the pace of rate hikes, there isn't a case for interventions to support the rupee. More so, given that India has a managed float exchange rate regime. Interventions, if any, should be to prevent volatility and sharp movements rather than attempt to target the exchange rate at a particular level.

> Commentary and headlines that mention "rupee weakens", etc., are incorrect and, as a matter of fact, it ignores the value of the rupee and the global economic context. The rupee's value is not to be measured just against the US dollar but against a broader basket of currencies that make up the Real and Nominal Effective Exchange Rate indices

From a competitive exchange rate standpoint, several of our competitors have seen a substantial depreciation of their currency against the US dollar. Some of them have also witnessed depreciation against most reserve currencies. What this means is that their products are now cheaper in the international markets than Indian goods. It is not unusual for countries to tinker with their exchange rates during a growth slowdown year to generate greater exports. This is true for many export dependent economies. There is a threat of competitive devaluations under such a circumstance when several economies begin to devalue to maintain their competitive edge. Still, the costs associated with the same serve as a credible deterrent. However, interventions to strengthen domestic currency when competitors are witnessing a depreciation is not the desired strategy. In fact, this would be the other end of the extreme which too would impose a cost.

It is therefore desirable that the rupee depreciates in line with what the fundamentals and markets suggest at the moment. This depreciation should be consistent with that experienced by our competitors. That is not just desired but is also the best policy response to make the most of the volatile external environment.

It is equally important to remember that India's overall macroeconomic fundamentals remain well equipped to enable policymakers to respond to volatility or any exogenous shocks. This makes the Indian economy far more resilient than its competitors, more so because most other emerging markets went overboard with their financial support in 2020.

Therefore, capital flows to India will likely be sustained as investors look for higher yields over the coming years. Stable fundamentals and credible policy frameworks would ensure investor appetite. Still, they won't be sufficient in preventing many in the Indian commentariat from measuring the Indian economy's health by looking at a one-dimensional market determined US dollar to India exchange rate.

ED raid on Partha's house

It is good that ED raided Partha Chatterjee's house and seized crores of rupees. There should be no place for corrupt leaders like him in the government or any party for that matter. Black money must be seized from corrupt leaders across the country. Since the central government is amassing a huge amount of money from these raids, they should also look at bringing down the taxes on essential commodities and medical bills—this will benefit the common man.
T Kailash Ditya, Hyderabad

Ruling party's arrow

It looks like the ED is an effective tool in the hands of the ruling party to be used on any politician who does not fall in line with those in power. A politician's lapse of any form will be put on the back burner till an 'appropriate' time when it will be used against him. This is the impression that the public gets by seeing all these ED raids. The latest raid on the residence of Shiv Sena leader Sanjay Raut can be seen as a case in point.

Mamata's woes

Apropos of Not easy for Teflon Mamata to dust off corruption dirt (August 1). It seems the ED's case against Partha Chatterjee is iron-clad due to all the incriminating evidence unearthed by sleuths at different locations. He has already been relieved of all positions in the Trinamool Congress. Meanwhile, now is the time for Mamata Banerjee to weed out tumbling skeletons like him before the BJP pounces on her with accusations of complicity. It is indeed very tough and "not easy for teflon Mamata to dust off corruption dirt" at this juncture. The only way she can solve this crisis is to stand by these words—zero tolerance toward corruption in her party and state.

Teacher scam in WB

With reference to the teacher recruitment scam, I find it very odd that the advisors of the accused politicians are not being investigated. Behind every corrupt politician or businessman lies an army of lawyers and CA people who chart a path for them to tread on. However, I fail to understand why no names like these are surfacing in this case.

Unity in Perambalur

Apropos of Kalathur Hindus and Muslims give peace another chance (August 1). It is so heartwarming to note that the century-old conflict between the Hindu and Muslim communities in Perambalur district has come to an end. Hindus invited Muslims for their annual temple festival, which has been a bone of contention for so long. I'd like to commend Collector P Sri Venkada Priya and SP S Mani for their earnest attempt at bringing the two communities together. In an era of polarisation, news like this teaches us a lot. They set aside their differences because they realised that unity is the seed of development.

Solution for impasse

Apropos of two earlier columns in your newspaper. I agree with the views expressed by Surya Prakash in Coming to terms with the "new" Hindu (July 15). But I beg to differ with the points raised by Makarand R Paranjape in Changing tides of India's communal ties (July 18). Hinduism does not believe in evil or sin—the cornerstone of Hindu ethos is Advaita philosophy. So, what is the solution for the present impasse? It lies with the Abrahamic religions, especially Islam. They must respect 'Sanatana Dharma' and stop converting Hindus.

Oppn didn't care for sanctity of House: Joshi

'When we were in the opposition, we never got placards to the House, but Opposition MPs have done that'

PARLIAMENT watchers heaved a sigh of relief when the Lok Sabha resumed normal functioning on Monday afternoon with a discussion on price rise as demanded by the Opposition. The hours-long debate that saw Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman responding to the lawmakers' concerns came about after the government agreed to revoke the suspension for four Congress MPs. Until Monday, most of the monsoon session, which began on July 18, had been a washout in the wake of various controversies.

The session has time until August 12 to make up for the lost time.

In an interview with Ashwini M Sripad, Union Minister of Parliamentary Affairs Pralhad Joshi talks about MPs' behaviour inside the House and the wastage of public money in the lost hours of parliamentary debates.

Excerpts:

Why were Opposition members not allowed to speak on price rise in the last two weeks?

From day one, we have been telling them that Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman was down with Covid and that she would recover within a few days. Since she is the right person to answer all their queries, we told them the debate could take place when she was present in the House. However, the Opposition kept on insisting, resulting in wastage of public money and Parliament time.

Verbatim

The logjam has led to suspension of some MPs. Will all suspensions be revoked?

When we were in the opposition, we never got placards to the House. Opposition MPs not just held placards before the Speaker, but even advanced towards the ruling party gallery. The House has a sanctity about which they did not care. We are not expecting their apology. The least they can say is that they will not repeat it or bring placards in future. Their suspension can be revoked. If such a response does not come from the members, their party floor leader can convey that.

The House has a sanctity about which they (Opposition) did not care. We are not expecting their apology. The least they can say is that they will not repeat it or bring placards in future. Their (MPs) suspension can be revoked. If such a response does not come from the members, their party floor leader can convey that

PRAHLAD JOSHI, Union Minister for Parliamentary Affairs

The GST has been a burden on people. What is the government stand?

The GST Committee has approved tax on many essentials. The committee members include CMs of Karnataka, Kerala, Rajasthan and other party leaders. Why didn't they raise the issue there? Let them take it up before the GST Council; the Finance Minister will take a call.

Only 10 days are left for the monsoon session to end. Do you see normal debates taking place on various bills?

We had earlier indicated that there are 32 bills on various issues. We will bring some to the House. We will allow the Opposition to take part in debates if their MPs do not create a ruckus to disturb the proceedings.

Will the government ban outfits such as the Popular Front of India and SDPI?

This is under discussion. I cannot reveal anything now. Home Minister Amit Shah will announce a suitable decision.

How are the Vice Presidential election preparations going on?

Our candidate Jagdeep Dhankhar is from a humble background. We are requesting even non-NDA MPs to vote for him. We are confident of him winning with a larger margin than our Presidential candidate has won.

India and UK end 5th round of FTA talks, $100b trade deal likely

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

INDIA and United Kingdom concluded the fifth round of talks for the Free Trade Agreement (FTA) on Monday. A deal is likely on the agreement soon and it is estimated to take India-UK bilateral trade to $100 billion by 2030.

"Two weeks of round five of India-UK FTA negotiations draw to a close. Our teams will continue to work intensively throughout summer towards our targets to conclude the talks by Diwali," said Nidhi Mani Tripathi, Joint Secretary in the Union Ministry of Commerce.

Permanent Secretary of the Department for International Trade, UK, James Bowler met Commerce Secretary B V R Subrahmanyam before the fifth round began a few days back. "Trade talks between India and UK are on track and the proposed trade deal is currently being negotiated and would be concluded by August 31," Subrahmanyam had said earlier. "Irrespective of the party in power in the UK, the logic of FTA with India is irreversible," Subrahmanyam said. The UK is at present reeling under political instability after Prime Minister Boris Johnson stepped down. The race for the next Prime Minister is in the last stage. However, this is not likely to impact the Free Trade Agreement negotiations, say experts.

"The cookie-cutter style of trade deals won't work with a diverse country like India. An agreement will mark a major step in a new direction of the 21st century. Negotiations can be tough but success comes with cooperation," tweeted Anne-Marie Trevelyan, UK Secretary of State for International Trade.

8 patients & staffers killed in MP pvt hospital blaze

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

AT least eight persons were killed and a few others injured, two of them critically, after a major fire broke out at a 30-bedded private multi-specialty hospital in Madhya Pradesh's Jabalpur city on Monday.

Three staffers of the ill-fated New Life hospital and five patients and their attendants were either burnt alive or choked to death by the blaze that engulfed the three-storied hospital in no time.

Over five others who suffered burn injuries were shifted to other hospitals, two of whom are stated to be in a critical condition. Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan ordered a thorough probe and announced compensation of ₹5 lakh each to next of the kin of the deceased.

"The fire began around 2.45 pm at the ground floor possibly due to an electrical short circuit and engulfed the other floors. The first floor and the ground floor were the worst affected. Most casualties happened on the top two floors," one of the fire brigade personnel on the spot said.

The stock of oxygen cylinders in the hospital possibly added fuel to the fire, as onlookers claimed hearing multiple sounds of cylinder bursts.

"When the fire broke there were around 25-30 people inside the hospital. A detailed probe is underway to figure out the actual cause of the blaze as well as the state of fire safety and firefighting equipment inside the hospital," Jabalpur district collector Dr Ilayaraja T and police superintendent Siddharth Bahuguna said.

Sources said the hospital did not have an emergency exit. Even its entry gate was quite narrow. There is speculation that the hospital was possibly started in 2020 during the first Covid wave, when the focuse was one ramping up health infrastructure in a big way.

Oppn slams govt over price rise denial

RICHA SHARMA @ New Delhi

THE Opposition Monday attacked the government for denying that there is a price rise while common people continue to suffer due to a steep increase in oil, cooking gas, and essential items, and big businessmen are being offered concessions.

The Lok Sabha saw 4.5 hours of discussion on price rise after the Parliament was disrupted over the Opposition's demand for the last two weeks. Before the house took the discussion, the suspension of 4 Congress MPs was revoked.

The Congress walked out as Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman was replying to the discussion, saying they are not satisfied with her response for the government feels that there is no inflation in the country, and people are not suffering.

Speaking on the issue, Congress MP Manish Tewari said that in the last 8 years, five economic values -- savings, investment, production, consumption, and employment have degraded and 23 crore people have slid back into poverty.

"MNREGA was called 'gaddha khodne wali scheme' by NDA, now that is keeping families alive and instead of filling money in common people's pockets, Rs 4.32 lakh crore concession were given to businesses between 2014-2022," he said.

Several opposition MPs questioned the government on the imposition of GST on dairy products, stationery items, medical equipment, and cremation sites. Kakoli Ghosh Dastidar, Trinamool Congress MP, asked the government to focus on the economic situation in the country rather than publicity.

"The price of LPG has increased by 4 times price hike so far and a cylinder costing Rs 1100, it is impossible for poor people to use it. Excise revenue from petrol and diesel has increased from Rs 1720 to Rs 3343 billion since 2014 while states are getting its shares, showing anti-federalism attitude of the government," she said.

The BJP MPs praised the government for ensuring growth despite Covid-19 and global economic slowdown due to the Russia-Ukraine war. "Globally, inflation is rising but in India, we are prospering because of the policies of the Modi government. During the pandemic, 80 crore people were fed free," said BJP MP Nishikant Dubey.

The MPs demanded immediate intervention by the government to check the inflation, saying every sector from MSMEs to small businesses is facing the brunt. TDP MP Jaydev Gall said that the solution to check oil price rise is by bringing it under the GST.

Bill seeking ban on WMD funding okayed

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

THE Parliament on Monday passed a bill seeking to ban funding of weapons of mass destruction. This will empower the Centre to freeze, seize or attach financial assets and economic resources of people engaged in such activities

The Weapons of Mass Destruction and Their Delivery Systems (Prohibition of Unlawful Activities) Amended Bill 2022 was initiated by External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar. This was passed in Lok Sabha with a voice vote. Responding to a debate on the bill, Dr Jaishankar said all members who spoke on the bill recognised that terrorism is a serious threat and so are weapons of mass destruction (WMD). The present law only covers trading and does not cover financing of WMD.

This gap needs to be filled because recommendation of the Financial Action Task Force requires all countries, including us, to ensure that assets financing for WMD related activities is prohibited. "So keeping in mind that lacunae of the current law we have brought this amendment. This is good for the security of the country," Jaishankar said. The Weapons of Mass Destruction and their Delivery Systems (Prohibition of Unlawful Activities) Act 2005 only barred manufacturing WMD.

SENIOR lawyer Abhay Nath Yadav, representing Anjuman Intezamia Masajid (AIM), the management committee of Gaynvapi Mosque, in ongoing litigation in Varanasi sessions and district courts, died of massive heart attack on Sunday night. Yadav breathed his last in a hospital on Maqbool Alam Road in Varanasi.

Significantly, on August 3, a reply from the Muslim side in the ongoing Gyanvapi case is due, and Abhay Nath Yadav's involvement would have been crucial.

Speaking about the sudden demise of Yadav, senior member of the Banaras Bar Association Nityanand Rai said that Yadav got a major heart attack around 10.30 pm on Sunday night and was rushed to Trimurti Hospital where doctors declared him dead on arrival.

Yadav was then taken by his family to another hospital where the doctors confirmed his demise.

The AIM has challenged the maintainability of a suit filed by five Hindu women.

AzaadiSAT

Satellite built by girl students ready for take-off

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

SEVERAL girl school students, mostly from rural areas, from Kanyakumari to Kashmir will celebrate a unique occasion. Together, they have built an 8-kg student satellite, named 'AzaadiSAT' as part of the ongoing 'Azaadi ka Amrit Mahotsav'.

If everything goes well, the 750 girls belonging to various government high schools will watch and cheer the maiden launch of India's latest space vehicle from ISRO carrying their satellite onboard.

The project is piloted by Chennai-based Space Kidz India (SKI), the first ambassador of NASA Space Camps from India. These students have designed and built the world's first-if-its-kind satellite in only 15 days.

Speaking to TNIE, SKI's founder-cum-CEO Dr Srimathy Kesan says the satellite represents India's unity in diversity. "Though the students were separated by hundreds of kilometres, they worked together through digital modes of communication."

ISRO iikely to send unique satellite into space

The project is piloted by Chennai-based Space Kidz India (SKI), the first ambassador of NASA Space Camps from India.

Dr Kesan says the unique initiative is aimed at discovering budding space scientists within the country. "As many as 75 payloads have been programmed by 75 student teams in their own schools with each team having 10 girls. The intended launch of 'AzaadiSAT' is on August 15 via ISRO's Small Satellite Launch Vehicle (SSLV). However, the ISRO chairman will announce the exact date and time," said Dr Kesan.

Encouraged by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Dr Kesan started working on the promotion of young talents among girls for setting the world's unique example in space feat. With a mission life of six months in space, the project puts women ahead in STEM (Science, technology, engineering and mathematics).

While Hexaware Technologies extended funding support to the satellite project, Ananth Technologies in Bengaluru facilitated the testing of the satellite.

She said that teams of girls will also be working on a 'sounding rocket' to send a 20-kg payload in space, around 80 kilometeres above the earth soon in future.

Call for including Sarna as tribal religion in Census gains traction

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

WHEN Sunil Hembrom, a Santhal tribal from Jharkhand' was asked to fill a column about his religion during the 2011 census survey, the 61-year-old had no inkling of what to write. He filled the column as 'Hindu' as directed by the Census official.

A decade later, Hembrom is at the forefront of a movement demanding his religion 'Sarna be recognised and included in the upcoming Census 2021. It has been a long-standing demand of several Tribal communities across the country to recognize them as separate religious entities. Followers of Sarna faith are worshippers of nature and they argue that a religious code is imperative to protect the identity and culture of tribal communities. Community leaders argue that in the absence of a religious code, a large number of tribals are being converted into Hinduism or Christianity.

Sarnas are the protectors of nature. We worship land, mountains, forests, rivers, and animals as our deity. A separate religious code is the only way to assert our tribal identity and rights

Karma Oraon, anthropologist

Along with Hembrom, lakhs of followers of Sarna religion in Khunti village in Jharkhand are raising the demand, especially after Draupadi Murmu, who belongs to Santhal tribe, became the first tribal President of the country.

In 2020, the Hemant Soren-led Jharkhand government passed a resolution demanding the central government for Sarna as a separate religious code for the Adivasi population and to include it in the next census. According to the 2011 census, the population of tribal communities was 10.4 crore, accounting for 8. 4 percent of the total population..

Under the census, a tribal has to be identified under any of the six religions — Hinduism, Islam, Christianity, Sikhism, Buddhism and Jainism, or 'others column'. According to 2011 census data, about 50 lakhs people have mentioned their religion as Sarna in the column of other religions.

Karma Oraon, former dean and head of Anthropology department, Ranchi University, says that Sarnas are neither Hindus nor Christians and in the absence of a religious code, they are compelled to convert to other religions. "With 4 lakhs population, Jains are negligible compared to tribals. Still, they are recognised," says Oraon.

"Sarnas are the protectors of nature. We worship land, mountains, forests, rivers, and animals as our deity. A separate religious code is the only way to assert our tribal identity and rights," he added.

Raut in ED custody till August 4 in PMLA case

Sena leader was arrested late on Sunday night by the agency

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

A Mumbai court on Monday remanded Shiv Sena Rajya Sabha MP and executive editor of daily Saamana, Sanjay Raut, in Enforcement Directorate (ED) custody until August 4 in a money laundering case.

The federal probe agency produced him before the special PMLA court here and sought his custody for eight days.

Special court judge MG Deshpande passed the order against the ED demand for eight days' custody. Senior Counsel Ashok Mundargi, appearing for Raut, contended that all allegations in the remand application were vague and that the case stemmed from political vendetta.

He pointed out that the case went back to 2018 but was raked up due to a change in political atmosphere.

On non-cooperation with the ongoing probe, Mundargi said that Raut had communicated that he was involved in elections and was also attending parliament's monsoon session.

The judge said, "I am of the opinion that a long custody of eight days is not warranted. The accused is remanded in ED custody up to August 4, which will be enough for investigation."

The court noted that Raut was a heart patient and had undergone a surgery. "During the ED custody, he may be given some rest," it said, while allowing Raut to get home food and medicines.

The court, after hearing both the sides, held that considering the compass of inquiry and trail of money, custodial interrogation of Sanjay Raut was necessary. It also cannot be ignored that a charge-sheet against Pravin Raut has been filed, everything has been documented and available for prosecution to investigate, the court said.

It added that trail of money in Sanjay Raut's wife's bank account can be investigated by obtaining bank statements

The ED arrested Raut late on Sunday late night in a money laundering case linked to the redevelopment of the Patra Chawl project. He was questioned for more than 17 hours before he was formally arrested.

Uddhav slams Nadda over 'family-run parties' remark

Latching on to Bharatiya Janata Party president J P Nadda's comments that family-run parties will perish, Shiv Sena chief Uddhav Thackeray on Monday accused the ruling party at the Centre of conspiring to finish off regional outfits. Talking to reporters here, Thackeray also slammed the BJP over the arrest of Sena leader Sanjay Raut by the Enforcement Directorate in a money laundering case and hailed the Rajya Sabha MP as a "true Shiv Sainik" who did not succumb to pressure. "The BJP is conspiring to finish off regional parties. The mask is off. I had thanked Koshiyari (Governor Bhagat Singh) that you inadvertently brought the dream of crushing Marathi manoos out before us," the former Maharashtra CM said.

UP to extend free care to emergency patients for first 48 hours

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THE UP government has decided to extend free-of-cost treatment to emergency patients for the first 48 hours. The state health department is also set to install a live emergency monitoring system through an integrated trauma and emergency centre round-the-clock.

A government spokesperson said UP would be the first state to take the crucial step towards improving the emergency healthcare services.

The live emergency monitoring system would be installed on the lines of Covid command centres that were set up to help the patients when the pandemic was at its peak. These centres continue to function in the state.

The Yogi government also looks to bring about more changes in the existing healthcare system. The government wants to expand health infrastructure as well as provide proper healthcare facilities to the needy and poor by spending ₹3,000 crore.

Once implemented, the integrated trauma and emergency centre will facilitate easy admission in hospitals, especially in emergency cases. Ambulance services will be available on a single call.

Of the proposed amount of ₹3,000 crore, ₹1,614 crore will be spent on the development of basic healthcare facilities in the next five years. On average ₹550 crore will be spent each year to provide free treatment to trauma and non-trauma patients.

A total of ₹300 crore will be spent on upgrading ambulance service under which 750 ambulances with advanced life support systems will be purchased.

Further, about ₹165 crore will be allocated for operation of ambulances, salaries and staff training. The annual expenditure on call centre, command centre, operation and maintenance of software among others will be close to ₹125 crore.

According to principal secretary, medical education, Alok Kumar, a plan is afoot to implement a live emergency monitoring system in a phased manner. "The initial Forty-eight hours are very important in saving lives. Therefore, it has been proposed that free treatment will be given to patients of emergency care for the first 48 hours," said Kumar.

As per the recommendations of the National Medical Commission (NMC), all the medical colleges have been told to install 25 CCTV cameras on their campus.

All in family for BJP in MP rural body polls

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

THE recently concluded local body polls in Madhya Pradesh have given a lie to BJP chief J P Nadda's assertion about 'dynastic politics.' Many kinfolk of the existing and former lawmakers/ministers of the party have won in the Zila and Janpad panchayat chairperson-vice-chairperson polls as well as mayoral elections in the state. The long list of leaders' kin winning in the polls, either as party's official candidates or as BJP-supported candidates, includes at least two newly elected mayors.

In Khandwa, the BJP candidate Amrita Yadav is the daughter-in-law of three-time ex-MLA Hukumchand Yadav and wife of Amar Yadav, the chairperson in the outgoing Khandwa Municipal Corporation.

In Satna of Vindhya region, the winning mayor candidate Yogesh Tamrakar (who defeated local Congress MLA Siddharth Kushwah) is the son of veteran RSS leader Shankar Prasad Tamrakar.

In Sagar, the new mayor Sangita Tiwari is the wife of Sushil Tiwari, who joined the BJP, just before the 2018 assembly elections.

Didi to reset post-Partha cabinet, 5-6 new faces likely

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee on Monday said there would be cabinet reshuffle on August 3 prompted by arrest of suspended Trinamool Congress heavyweight Partha Chatterjee, who was minister-in-charge of four departments, and death of two senior politicians Subrata Mukherjee and Sadhan Pande. She also announced of formation of seven new districts in the state.

The CM, after holding cabinet meeting on Monday, said five to six new faces would be inducted in her ministry while some ministers would be moved out and given organisational responsibility.

"We will have to reshuffle the cabinet because Partha Chatterjee is behind bar and senior ministers like Mukherjee and Pande passed away," said Mamata refuting speculations that she would dissolve the entire cabinet and a fresh cabinet will be sworn in. Mamata said after the death of two senior ministers, she is in-charge of most of the departments. "I cannot do everything. We have to divide the work," she said.

The reshuffle was expected as the ruling party believes that the legal battle of Chatterjee, who was among the key cabinet members, will continue for long. Chatterjee was arrested in connection with alleged recruitment scam in schools during his tenure as the education minister.

Before his arrest, Chatterjee held crucial departments, which include commerce and industries and parliamentary affairs.

The ruling party changed a number of district presidents and chairman and new faces were given responsibility. "There will be more changes in the party's district-level hierarchy," said a senior leader of the TMC.

7 new districts carved out

The Mamata Banerjee government on Monday decided to carve out seven new districts in the state. Two new districts will be carved out North 24-Parganas, said Mamata. "In South 24-Parganas, Sunderbans will be a new district. Murshidabad will have two more districts and one in Bankura," Mamata said after a cabinet meeting

Chatterjee ducking question: ED

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

DURING more than 60 hours of interrogation in the past one week, the Enforcement Directorate (ED) officials have found Trinamool Congress leader and former minister Partha Chatterjee tough to crack.

The veteran politician, in the custody of the central agency in connection with the recruitment scam in schools, has reportedly been tight-lipped about the alleged conspiracy behind his arrest.

Chatterjee has refused to corroborate the statements given by his close aide Arpita Mukherjee, according to Enforcement Directorate .

When asked on the recovery of cash from Arpita's apartments, Chatterjee said that he had heard about it. "The former Bengal minister is yet to cooperate with us," said an ED official.

The Enforcement Directorate is recording the entire interrogation process using video cameras. Besides, CCTVs have been installed where Chatterjee and Arpita have been kept.

Tenacious Margaret Alva not giving up on VP fight

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

UNITED opposition Vice-President candidate Margaret Alva has written to MPs that Parliament is at a standstill with communication between members broken. There is distrust, anger and inability to debate issues of critical national importance without personal attacks and abuse. This diminishes Parliament and its members in the eyes of the people, she said, and added that she desires to run the Upper House befitting its stature.

Alva realises that the dice is loaded against her and the August 6 election may be a huge challenge for her considering the numbers, but she is not giving up. On Monday, she met with women Parliamentarians. She wrote on social media, "I enjoyed meeting our lady MPs from across parties in parliament today. their energy is infectious. There is much that binds us together er as women."

In a formal letter to MPs, she wrote, "My only aim has been to defend without fear the Constitution of India. The Vice-President's election, in which only Members of Parliament vote, is not just another election, it must be seen as a referendum on the manner in which Parliament is being run and the breakdown in the fundamental democratic process of building consensus on important national issues in which you as a representative of the people are an important stakeholder."

She said, "The time for changes is now. The reason the election to the Vice-President's post is not subject to a party whip and is by secret ballot is to give members an opportunity to vote without fear for a candidate they believe will do justice to this critical position. I commit myself to work tirelessly to uphold the Constitution and to strengthen parliamentary democracy. I will work to build bridges between different political parties forge consensus on issues of national importance and help restore the glory of Parliament."

MP shocker: Denied hearse van, sons bring home mother's body on mobike

ANURAG SINGH @ Bhopal

ALLEGEDLY denied a hearse van by a government hospital in Madhya Pradesh's Shahdol district, two brothers on Sunday had to bring home their mother's body on a wooden board attached to their motorbike. The woman had died during the course of treatment at the state government's medical college hospital early Sunday.

The shocking visuals of the two men placing their mother's body on a wooden board and tying it to their motorcycle to take it back home at Gudaru village — around 80 km from Shahdol — went viral on Monday. Sources said Jaimantri Yadav, a resident of Gudaru village in neighbouring Anuppur district, was admitted at the Shahdol district hospital due to cardiac problems.

Her condition was said to be critical and she was referred from the district hospital to the state government medical college in Shahdol only on Saturday late night. But she died during the course of treatment a few hours later, sources said.

Her son Sunderlal Yadav alleged that his mother's condition deteriorated owing to inadequate treatment at the Shahdol District Hospital. "I requested for a hearse van from the staff at the medical college hospital, but they refused. A private vehicle owner demanded ₹4,000, which I could not afford. So I was forced to tie my mother's body to a wooden board attached to my motorbike, which cost me ₹100," said Sunderlal.

Two killed, 17 injured in clashes in Gilgit Baltistan

ISLAMABAD

AT least two people were killed and 17 others injured when two religious groups that gathered on the occasion of the start of the Islamic month of Muharram clashed in Gilgit Baltistan region, a Pakistani media report said on Monday.

The incident happened on Sunday at Yadgar Chowk, near Gilgit deputy commissioner's office. A top Shia leader of Gilgit-Baltistan was hoisting the flag of Hazrat Imam Hussain at Khomar Chowk at the start of Muharram, the Dawn newspaper reported.

"The clash between the two groups began when the top Shia leader of Gilgit-Baltistan, Agha Rahat Hussain Al-Hussaini, was hoisting the Alam (flag) of Hazrat Imam Hussain at Khomar Chowk at the start of Muharram," the report said quoting a police official.

According to the police, the clash left two people who belonged to the Shia community dead. "There was firing too which injured 17 other people and they have been taken to a nearby hospital," the report said. Home Secretary Iqbal Hussain Khan said 44 suspects allegedly involved in the incident had been arrested and the arrest of more elements would be carried out on intelligence-based information. He said that Section 144 had been imposed in the area for the next two weeks and Rs1 million each would be paid in compensation to the families of the two people killed in the incident while Rs300,000 each would be paid to injured persons. Gilgit Baltistan Chief Minister Khalid Khurshid Khan said a handful of miscreants were trying to disturb the peaceful environment of the city and warned that strict action would be taken against them. PTI

FIRST GRAIN SHIPMENT LEAVES UKRAINE'S PORT

Ship departs with 26,000 tonnes of corn through safe corridor in the mine-infested waters of Black Sea raising hopes of easing food crisis

ODESSA

THE first shipment of Ukrainian grain since the Russian invasion in February left the port of Odessa on Monday under a landmark deal to lift Moscow's naval blockade in the Black Sea.

United Nations chief Antonio Guterres, who brokered the plan with Turkey, welcomed the announcement. Kyiv said it would bring "relief for the world" if Moscow held up its side of the accord.

The five-month halt of deliveries from war-torn Ukraine — one of the world's biggest grain exporters — has contributed to soaring food prices, hitting the world's poorest nations especially hard. Officials said the Razoni cargo ship, registered in Sierra Leone, was making its way through a specially cleared corridor in the mine-infested waters of the Black Sea with 26,000 tonnes of maize on board. "It is expected in Istanbul on August 2. It will then continue its journey after it has been inspected in Istanbul," the Turkish foreign minister said in a statement.

Other convoys would follow, respecting the maritime corridor and the agreed formalities, the statement said.

Last month, Ukraine and Russia signed the breakthrough pact — the first signficant accord involving the warring sides since the invasion — with Turkey and the United Nations aimed at getting millions of tonnes of trapped Ukrainian grain to world markets.

But Russian strikes on the Odessa port the day after the deal was signed sparked outrage from Ukraine's allies and cast doubt over the accord.

Guterres said he hoped the Razoni would be the first of many commercial ships to depart from Ukraine and that "this will bring much-needed stability and relief to global food security, especially in the most fragile humanitarian contexts". "Ensuring that existing grain and foodstuffs can move to global markets is a humanitarian imperative".

He also said the World Food Programme was planning to "purchase, load and ship an initial 30,000 metric tons of wheat out of Ukraine on a UN-chartered vessel," with more details in the coming days. EU spokesman Peter Stano said the departure Monday was a good "first step" but that Brussels still expects the "implementation of the whole deal and resumption of Ukrainian exports to the customers around the world."

Ukrainian Foreign Minister Dmytro Kuleba said Monday marked a "day of relief for the world, especially for our friends in West Asia, Asia, and Africa, as the first Ukrainian grain leaves Odessa after months of Russian blockade."

Kyiv retakes over 40 settlements in Kherson

Kyiv: Ukrainian forces have recaptured more than 40 settlements in the key southern region of Kherson, as Kyiv looks to drive back Russian troops in a counter-offensive, the local governor said Monday. Kyiv's forces have been carrying out strikes on Russian warehouses and positions behind the front line and hit bridges acting as crucial supply routes for Moscow's troops. "Today, 46 settlements have already been de-occupied in Kherson," an Ukrainian official said

Sunak promises 20% tax cut as Truss leads

LONDON

As the voting process for the new Conservative Party leader formally opened with postal ballots being mailed out to Tory members from Monday, Rishi Sunak vowed to cut the basic rate of income tax by 20 per cent in a few years if he is elected Britain's Prime Minister.

The 42-year-old former Chancellor, who is trailing his rival Liz Truss in the opinion polls and bookmaker's odds, said his "radical vision" would mean a 20 per cent tax reduction the "largest cut to income tax in 30 years". Tax cuts have become the dominant issue in the election campaign and while Truss has pledged cuts from day one, Sunak has sought to focus on a more measured approach to curb soaring inflation. "What I'm putting to people today is a vision to deliver the biggest income tax cut since (former Tory Prime Minister) Margaret Thatcher's government," said Sunak. "It is a radical vision but it is also a realistic one and there are some core principles that I'm simply not prepared to compromise on, whatever the prize," he said.

Under the proposals, Sunak said he would build on his previously announced 1p cut to income tax in April 2024. A further 3p off by the end of the next Parliament, around 2029, will be paid for through economic growth.

Meanhwile, his opponent Truss won another heavyweight endorsement on Monday. Chancellor of the Exchequer Nadhim Zahawi joined other luminaries of Boris Johnson's cabinet in backing the foreign secretary against Sunak, his predecessor in the Treasury. AFP

Pelosi begins Asia tour, Taiwan visit likely

SINGAPORE

THE US House of Representatives Speaker Nancy Pelosi on Monday kicked off an Asia tour, with US officials saying she is expected to visit Taiwan.

She stopped first in Singapore, where Prime Minister Lee Hsien Loong urged her at a meeting to strive for "stable" ties with Beijing.

Her itinerary also includes Malaysia, South Korea and Japan, but the expected Taiwan visit has dominated attention in the run-up.

US officials said the Pentagon is working round the clock to monitor Chinese movements in the region to ensure that Pelosi is safe. Her plan to visit the island have enraged Beijing and caused unease in the White House with President Joe Biden trying to lower the temperature.

Beijing considers self-ruled Taiwan its territory — to be seized one day, by force if necessary — and said it would regard a Pelosi visit as a major provocation.

Pelosi's office confirmed her Asia trip in a statement Sunday once her plane was in the air, following days of US media speculation and the speaker refusing to confirm her itinerary. "The trip will focus on mutual security, economic partnership and democratic governance in the Indo-Pacific region," it said, referring to the Asia-Pacific.

The statement did not mention Taiwan. But visits by US officials there are usually kept secret until delegations land.

The Global Times, China's state-run tabloid, suggested that Pelosi might use "emergency excuses like an aircraft fault or refuelling" to land at a Taiwanese airport.

"If she dares to stop in Taiwan, it will be the moment to ignite the powder keg of the situation in the Taiwan Straits," Hu Xijin, a former Global Times editor and now commentator, tweeted.

And the Chinese army's Eastern Theater Command shared footage on social media site Weibo featuring a combat-ready army with fighters and helicopters taking off, amphibious troops landing on a beach and a stream of missiles raining down on various targets.

"We will bury all enemies who invade our territory," a short text accompanying the footage read. "We're ready to fight," it added. "Advance towards a joint combat and a victorious war." AFP

Tense calm on Serbia-Kosovo border

Serbs in North Kosovo removed barricades on Monday that closed two crossings on the border with Serbia after authorities postponed the implementation of new travel measures that sparked tensions

REMOVING BARRIERS

Trucks and barriers were being cleared from the roads, hours after a string of shootings and air raid sirens in northern Kosovo sent tensions soaring in the disputed territory home to both Serbs and ethnic Albanians Kosovo's independence from Serbia

The area has long been a flashpoint between the two communities following the bitter war in the 1990s that triggered a NATO bombing campaign, which paved the way for Kosovo's unilateral declaration of independence from Serbia in 2008

STAYING LOYAL

Serbs in northern Kosovo have long refused to acknowledge Pristina's authority and have largely remained loyal to the Serbian government in Belgrade that provides lucrative financial support to their community

NEW SET OF INSTRUCTIONS

The latest bout of unrest followed a decision by Kosovo authorities to introduce a new set of travel documents for people entering the territory with Serbian IDs

100 countries, including the Unite States, recognise Kosovo

A RECIPROCAL ACTION

Kosovo's Prime Minister Albin Kurti described the new rules as a reciprocal move mimicking regulations that are imposed on Kosovars travelling to Serbia

POSTPONEMENT OF IMPLEMENTATION OF MEASURES The prime minister appeared to back down—postponing the implementation of the measures for one month—after meeting with the US ambassador in the capital Pristina late Sunday

A SUPERNOVA

James Webb Telescope captures images of a collapsing star

THE renowned James Webb Telescope (JWST) has accomplished yet another remarkable feat. It has detected its first supernova which is three billion light years away from our planet.

A supernova is a powerful explosion which is caused when the pressure within the star slowly starts to drop. The star in turn expands to five times the mass of our sun and explodes which releases a lot of debris and particles.

The Webb telescope took pictures over a period of five days, where one can see that the light of an object gets relatively dimmer. This very evidence conceptualized the theory of a supernova. The explosion is believed to have occurred in the galaxy SDSS J141930.11+5251593.

Mike Engesser of the Space Telescope Science Institute (STScI), told Inverse, "What is additionally exciting is the fact that JWST was not designed to find and detect new transients." This event was recorded using the NIRCam instrument of the Webb Telescope which detects light from stars and galaxies using its infrared light.

The Hubble Space Telescope took pictures of the same galaxy in 2011. However, the bright dot in the images which is quite prominent in the photos taken by Webb Telescope is nowhere to be found in images snapped by the Hubble.

According to Daily Mail, Mike Engesser and his team used software designed to spot differences in the photos which led to the bright speck. JWST not only showcased its first official deep space pictures on July 12, but it has also uncovered the oldest galaxy in the universe.

Ex-Pakistan PM received kickbacks from Indian firm?

LAHORE

A senior Pakistani opposition leader has alleged that former prime minister Shahid Khaqan Abbasi received kickbacks from an Indian company when he was serving as the federal petroleum minister in the cabinet of Premier Nawaz Sharif five years ago, media reports said on Monday. Addressing a press conference on Sunday, Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) leader Shahbaz Gill alleged that Abbasi took PKR 140 million as a bribe from an Indian firm as consultancy fees, the Dawn newspaper reported.

"Khaqan Abbasi received Rs140 million from an Indian company through telegraphic transfers when was serving as federal petroleum minister in 2017,' Pakistan Observer newspaper quoted him as saying, adding that he had receipts of all transactions made to Abbasi, now a senior vice-president of the ruling Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz (PML-N) party.

GST collection in July up 28% to ₹1.49 lakh crore

In the April-July 2022 period, revenue went up 35% as against the same period last fiscal

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE government collected ₹1,48,995 crore in goods and services tax (GST) in July 2022, posting a 28% year-on-year increase, according to data released by the finance ministry.

This is the second-highest monthly GST collection since the new tax regime came into being in July 2017. In April this year, the government collected the highest ₹1.67 lakh crore.

This is the fifth month in a row that the GST revenue has been over ₹1.4 lakh crore. In the April-July 2022 period, collections have raised 35% over the same period previous year.

"This is a clear impact of various measures taken by the GST Council in the past to ensure better compliance. Better reporting coupled with economic recovery has been having positive impact on the GST revenues on a consistent basis," the finance ministry said in a statement.

Minister of state, finance, Pankaj Chaudhary on Monday informed the parliament that the government has taken various measures for improving tax compliance such as mandating e-way bill, ITC matching, mandating e-invoice, deployment of artificial intelligence and machine-based analytics, Aadhar authentication for registration, integration of e-way bill with fast tag etc. However, analysts do not only attribute the jump in collection to only better compliance and economic recovery. Many of them believe the collection could also be due to higher inflation. While retail inflation has been trending over 7% since April, wholesale inflation has been in double digit for over 15 months. "These consistent high collections indicate recovery from the pandemic hit and can also be attributed to inflation and tight check and balances implemented by the government," says Abhishek Jain, Partner, Indirect Tax, KPMG.

Of the ₹1.49 lakh crore collection in July, Central GST is ₹25,751 crore, state GST is ₹32,807 crore, integrated GST is ₹79,518 crore (including ₹41,420 crore collected on import of goods) and cess is ₹10,920 crore (including ₹995 crore collected on import of goods). Among larger states, Karnataka registered the highest year-on-year increase of 45% in collection followed by Tamil Nadu (34%), Kerala (29%), West Bengal (28%), Haryana (27%) and Telangana (26%).

Govt mops up ₹1.5 L cr in 5G spectrum auction

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

THE Centre mopped up a whopping ₹1,50,173 crore in the first ever 5G spectrum auction, selling 71% of the total spectrum put up for sale. The amount is nearly double of ₹77,815 crore the government got after selling 4G airwaves in 2021 and triple of ₹50,968.37 crore it earned from 3G auctions in 2010.

India's largest telecom operator Reliance Jio came out as the biggest bidder by spending ₹88,078 crore, acquiring various spectrum including the most sought after and coveted 700 MHz band that can provide 6-10 km of signal range in all 22 circles in the country.

Airtel acquired 19867.8 MHz spectrum in 900 MHz, 1800 MHz, 2100MHz, 3300 MHz and 26 GHz bands for ₹43,084 crore, while Vodafone Idea acquired 3300 MHz band in 17 priority circles and mmWave 26 GHz band in 16 circles for ₹18,799 crore.

New entrant Adani Data Networks spent ₹212 crore to buy 26 GHZ spectrum in Gujarat, Mumbai, Karnataka, Rajasthan, Andhra Pradesh and Tamil Nadu.

Telecom companies will use these bands for the next 20 years. The bidder will have to pay the amount in 20 equal instalments over the next 20 years. The first instalment, in case everyone opts for the option, would amount to ₹13, 365 crore.

"We understand that the spectrum purchased is good enough to cover all the circles in the country. We will start allocating the spectrum from 10 August 2022. We expect the telecom companies will start rolling out the service by the first week of October 2022. In the next two to three years, we will have very good coverage for 5G in India," said Union telecom minister Ashwini Vaishnaw.

The bidding process, which started on 26 July, stretched to almost seven days and for 40 rounds.

'5G tech to help India become digital society'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

INDIAN telecom service providers (TSPs) on Monday welcomed the result of the 5G spectrum auction and expected 5G technology will accelerate India's transformation into a digital society.

Reliance Jio, which acquired spectrum in the 700MHz, 800MHz, 1800MHz, 3300MHz and 26GHz bands in the auctions said the acquisition will enable the company to build the world's most advanced 5G network and further strengthen India's global leadership in wireless broadband connectivity.

"We have always believed that India will become a leading economic power in the world by adopting the power of breakthrough technologies. This was the vision and conviction that gave birth to Jio. The speed, scale and societal impact of Jio's 4G rollout are unmatched anywhere in the world. Now, with a bigger ambition and stronger resolve, Jio is set to lead India's march into the 5G era," said Akash M Ambani, Chairman, Reliance Jio Infocomm. The government mopped up a whopping ₹1,50,173 crore in the first-ever 5G spectrum auction, selling 71% of the spectrum put up for sale. India's second-largest telecom operator Bharti Airtel said it has acquired 19,800 MHz spectrum by securing a pan India footprint of 3.5 GHz and 26 GHz bands.

"This will allow us to raise the bar on innovation and address the emerging needs of every discerning customer who demands the best experience in India. We are confident that we will be able to deliver the best 5G experience in India in terms of coverage, speeds and latency," Gopal Vittal, MD & CEO, Bharti Airtel. Vodafone Idea (VIL), which acquired mid-band 5G spectrum (3300 MHz band) in 17 priority circles and mmWave 5G spectrum (26 GHz band) in 16 circles, said it believes this auction will catalyse digital economy growth and usher 5G in India. "We will continue to collaborate with enterprise customers and partners in prioritising and developing 5G use cases for real-world deployments," said VIL in a statement.

Investors richer by ₹12.74L cr in 4 days

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

INDIA'S equity market rallied for the fourth straight session on Monday with benchmark indices - Nifty and Sensex - gaining nearly 1% each. The Nifty 50 index rose 1% to close the Monday session at 17,340, while the BSE Sensex climbed 545 points to shut shop at 58,115.

Sensex, which on Monday ended above the 58,000-level for the first time since April 13, has jumped 2,847.01 points or 5.15% in the last four session and the market capitalisation of BSE-listed firms jumped to ₹270.29 lakh crore during this period, making investors richer by ₹12.74 lakh crore.

The current rally is being aided by the positive global cues after the Federal Reserve's denial of a recession in the US and increase in foreign inflows. After turning net buyers in July, foreign institutional investors bought shares worth ₹ 2,320.61 crore on Monday, as per exchange data. Positive auto sales data and GST collection rising to touch the second-highest level of ₹1.49 lakh crore in July 2022 boosted investors' sentiment on Monday. Tata Motors and Mahindra & Mahindra were the top gainers on the Nifty 50 index, climbing 6.6% and 6.3%, respectively. While equity market analysts at large expect the bull to continue in near future, few experts are advising investors to take a cautious approach.

"The outburst seen after the breach of the 16800 zone (Nifty) depicts the impeccable strength of the bulls when the scenario turns favorable," said Osho Krishan, Sr. Analyst - Technical & Derivative Research, Angel One. One should not rule out the factor of profit booking as the Nifty heads towards the crucial resistance gap of the 17450 odd zone. Hence, it is advisable to monitor the profits and regularly trail them for better returns, Krishan added. Shrikant Chouhan, head of equity research (Retail), Kotak Securities, said, "Nifty is still holding higher high and higher low formation on intraday charts. Since the market is in temporary overbought, we could see a quick intraday correction in the near term."

OMCs slash price of Jet fuel, commercial LPG cylinder

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

AS the crude oil prices cooled down in the international market, the oil marketing companies (OMCs) slashed the jet fuel (ATF) prices by 12% to ₹121,915.57 per kl in the national capital.

As per price notification by state-run retailers, ATF prices for domestic airlines now stand at ₹121,915.57 in Delhi, ₹128,425.21 in Kolkata; ₹120,875.86 in Mumbai; and ₹126,516.29 in Chennai. This is the third but steepest-ever reduction in rates and follows a ₹3,084.94 per kl (2.2%) reduction effected on July 16.

The rates of commercial LPG – the one used by hotels, restaurants and other business establishments – was reduced by ₹36 to ₹1,976.50 per 19-kg cylinder. This is the fourth reduction in commercial LPG rates since May. In all, prices have come down by ₹377.50 per 19-kg cylinder. However, there was no change in the price of domestic LPG. While ATF prices are revised on the 1st and 16th of every month, based on rates of benchmark international oil rates in the previous fortnight, commercial LPG rates are changed once a month.

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

INDIA'S passenger vehicle (PV) market witnessed a robust July as top 5 carmakers, including Maruti Suzuki (MSIL), and Hyundai Motor, reported growth in monthly sales on the back of new launches and improvement in chip shortage crisis.

The combined domestic PV sales of top carmakers grew 17% in July 2022 to 290,930 units against 248,021 units sold in July 2021. MSIL, country's largest carmaker, posted a 6.8% growth in July 2022 domestic PV sales to 142,850 units as against 133,732 units in the year-ago period. While its mini and compact PV sales grew, MSIL's utility vehicle sales registered a steep fall last month. Hyundai Motor (HMIL) reported a 5.1% increase in domestic sales to 50,500 units in July 2022 as against 48,042 units in July 2021. "With the improvement in semiconductor situation, PV segment is showing positive trends, riding on the green shoots of pent-up demand and customer desire towards personal mobility," Tarun Garg, director of sales, marketing & service, HMIL, said. Homegrown auto majors- Tata Motors and Mahindra & Mahindra (M&M) - reported a double-digit growth in sales. Tata Motors reported its highest-ever monthly sales at 47,505 units in July 2022, a growth of 57% year-on-year (YoY), while M&M sold 28,053 vehicles in July 2022, up by 33% YoY. Other positive indicators include increase in EV share and favourable valuation to support growth," said Saji John, Research Analyst at Geojit Financial Services.

AIR INDIA SET TO ALLOW ITS PILOTS TO FLY UNTIL AGE OF 65

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

TATA GROUP-owned Air India (AI) will now allow its pilots to fly until the age of 65 as it looks to ensure adequate manpower for its fleet expansion plans.

Currently, Air India pilots retirement age is 58 years.

"Considering future expansion plans for our fleet, it is imperative to meet our workforce requirement for pilots. DGCA ((Directorate General of Civil Aviation) allows pilots to fly till the age of 65 years, compared to Air India retirement age of 58 years. Allowing pilots to fly till the age of 65 is a practice followed by most airlines in the industry," the airline's internal document dated July 29 stated. "To meet our requirement, it is proposed to retain our current trained pilots at Air India post retirement on a contractual basis for 5 years extendable to 65 years," said S D Tripathi, AI's chief human resource officer (CHRO) in the document.

According to AI's new policy, a panel comprising functional representatives of HR and operations & flight safety will be constituted to examine the eligibility of pilots retiring in the next two years. The panel will be responsible for reviewing the past records of the pilots with respect to discipline, flight safety and vigilance. Post the review, the committee will recommend shortlisted names to the CHRO for issuing them post retirement contract.

"Post-retirement contract will include a clause for annual review of the contract basis performance, conduct and flight safety record. On completion of five years of satisfactory service, a comprehensive examination of their performance will be considered for further extension till 65 years. This will be reviewed by the constituted committee," the policy document stated.

IndiGo to reinstate its pilots' salary

NewDelhi: Country's largest airline IndiGo is planning will restore its pilots' salaries to pre-Covid levels from November. The decision comes after a section of its pilots protested and cabin crew took mass sick leave over salary and working condition issues. "Our aim has been to constantly revisit our salary and remuneration and reinstate them to pre-Covid levels. Keeping that in mind, I am pleased to announce a 6% reinstatement of salaries effective Sept 1, 2022, and the remaining 6% shall be reinstated on Nov 1, 2022, as we all welcome the festival of lights," read an internal IndiGo mail.

Zomato first quarter net loss narrows to ₹186 crore, mulls parent entity

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

ONLINE food delivery platform Zomato on Monday posted ₹185.7 crore consolidated net loss in the first quarter of this fiscal compared to a loss of ₹356.2 crore in the same quarter last year.

Its consolidated revenue from operations in the June quarter stood at ₹1,413.9 crore, an increase of 67% as against ₹844 crore in the year-ago period.

Its food delivery business has hit break-even in the first quarter. "On the profitability front, the food delivery business hit an important milestone last quarter by getting to adjusted EBITDA break-even," said Zomato CFO Akshant Goyal.

Though Zomato didn't share any detail about the idea of a parent entity 'Eternal' in the results announcement, according to sources, the company has been discussing the same and the idea is in preliminary stages. Also, the firm will have multiple CEOs running each of its businesses.

Apart from its delivery and dining out business, it has Blinkit, Hyperpure and Feeding India, and all these verticals will come under one parent entity in near future.

In a post on the company's Slack, workplace communications tool, Zomato co-founder and CEO Deepinder Goyal reportedly said, "We are transitioning from a company where I was the CEO to a place where we will have multiple CEOs running each of our businesses, all acting as peers to each other, and working as a super team with each other towards building a single large and seamless organisation."

Zomato is in cash conservation mode

Meanwhile, talking about macro headwinds after announcing Q1 results, Goyal said there is a negative impact on the demand side. "On the cost side, the margins are getting negatively impacted due to higher fuel costs and wage inflation. The overall efficiency gains have helped us make good progress on improving contribution margins," he said. He said that there is no plan to make any more minority investments as the company is in cash conservation mode.

"Our focus on profitability has sharpened over the past few months with the change in market context, without compromising our focus on growth," Goyal added. In terms of monthly transacting customers, it has increased by 36% YoY to 16.7 million in Q1FY23 as against 12.3 million in the year-ago period.

An emotional Indian team after securing a medal in the Lawn Bowls event on Monday | TWITTER

SUPERB BOWL

4 athletes from diverse background put India in final, assure medal

GOMESH S @Chennai

ON April 6, 2000, Pinki, a cricketer from Delhi, was at Sri Ramachandra Medical College Ground, Chennai, representing North Zone against Railways women during the 1999-00 Rani Jhansi Trophy. Assam's Nayanmoni Saikia was a national level weightlifter in early 2000s. Jharkhand's Lovely Choubey was once a long jump athlete, and Rupa Rani Tirkey was a kabaddi player in the past.

A few years on, the four athletes would come together on a bright sunny day at Birmingham to make history for India, reaching the Women's Fours finals of the Lawn Bowls event, overcoming New Zealand 16-13. But unlike their previous matches, it wasn't easy. At one point, they were trailing 1-6, but the players never gave up. They persevered, egged on, pushed one point at a time. They got to 7-6, even then it went down to the wire. But their captain Rupa held her nerves, delivered what the team needed in the penultimate bowl to take India to the final.

Now, Lawn Bowls isn't among the most famous sports in the country. It wasn't introduced in India until 2007. And that explains why all four of the Indian athletes were once involved in other disciplines. "Everyone was playing different sports earlier. In cricket, for example you need a team of eleven to win. Here in lawn bowls, there are both individual and team events. Because there is not much awareness about the sport in the country, players started taking it up for various reasons when it was introduced in the National Games in 2007," said Anju Luthra, the Indian team manager, from Birmingham.

"If you look at it, several players are from Jharkhand and Assam. Some are from Delhi, too. Many players have done well at national and international level and have been rewarded with jobs in the public sector, which is a big incentive for taking up the sport," said Anju. And, she is right. Lovely is employed by Jharkhand police, Nayanmoni is with Assam Forest department, Pinki is physical education teacher in a reputed school and Rupa Rani is a District Khel Officer, West Singhbhum.

But, it's not as if the four of them came out of nowhere and converged at Birmingham this year to secure India a medal in Lawn Bowls. In the 2010 CWG, India missed out on Bronze by a point, and in Gold Coast 2018, they reached quarterfinals in two categories. This time, however, despite the challenges due to the pandemic, they were determined to go all the way.

"We had a camp in Delhi as early as March 2021 and we reached England a few days early as well to prepare for the event," said, the general secretary of Bowling Federation of India, Lokinder Singh.

A few hours after reaching England on the morning of July 20, the Indian team were at the Bishopswood Bowling Club, London to get ready for their challenge. "The grass that we have got in Delhi and what we would be playing in here are different. So, the BFI had arranged for us a few days of training here in London. The players rested for an hour or so after we landed and then were at the club practising till 8 pm in the night," said Anju.

While a silver is secured, the Indian team is not thinking about it as they take on South Africa on Tuesday. They know they are on the verge of making history and what a gold medal could mean to their sport.

All eyes on Sreeshankar

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

THERE has been quite a buzz going around M Sreeshankar ever since he crossed that 8.36m in March to rewrite the national record. He shared season's best with Miltiadis Tentoglou of Greece. At the World Championships in Eugene, while Tentoglou managed 8.32 for silver, the gold medallist Jianan Wang of China cleared 8.36 for gold. Sreeshankar managed 7.99m.

As the focus shifts to Commonwealth Games athletics that begins from Tuesday, Sreeshankar would once again be on the radar. He missed the Gold Coast Games after suffering from appendicitis. The Birmingham Games would be his real test. He is still the best long jump exponent in the mix and his 8.35m is the best among athletes entered here. He is ranked seventh in the world with top six athletes not from commonwealth nations.

After the worlds, Sreeshankar and his father-cum-coach S Murali continued their training in Eugene until July 26 when they flew out to Birmingham.

"He has recovered and is in a good frame of mind," said the coach. "We are hoping to do well. Our training in the US was also very good. Acclimatisation done, now we are looking forward to the competition." The coach said Sreeshankar should perform well. "It's a great opportunity for him to do well and we know the field so we are optimistic," he said. Mohammad Anees is the other long jumper.

Discus thrower Seema Punia, who missed the Worlds to concentrate on CWG, will be in action alongside Navjeet Kaur Dhillon.

ON YOUR MARKS...

Athletics gets underway at the CWG on Tuesday at the refurbished 30,000 capacity Alexander Stadium. However, due to the closeness of the World Championships and a Diamond League meeting in Poland next Saturday, there are doubts over participation of several stars. Here are five who appear to be certain starters...

EMMANUEL KORIR (KEN) | 400M

I the undoubted king of the 800m having added world gold to his Olympic crown. Eyebrows may be raised as to why he would not attempt to make it a triple of 800m titles in Birmingham. However, he is extremely confident in his abilities at 400m. He said after the world final that he knew he would win as with a slow first lap he was the best 400m runner in the field. A further aid to his hopes is he is pretty fresh.

FERDINAND OMANYALA (KEN) | 100M

The African 100 metres champion could gain compensation at the Games after his world title challenge was shattered by only obtaining a visa to enter the United States at the last minute. The 26-year-old bowed out in the semi-finals but said he had no regrets and was looking forward to competing in Birmingham. "Persistence and resilience only come from having been given the chance to work through difficult problems. No matter how much falls on us, we keep moving," he tweeted.

JAKE WIGHTMAN (SCO) | 1500M

One of the surprises of the world championships when he took gold in a race being commentated on in the stadium by his father and coach Geoff. The 28-year-old became Britain's first 1500m world champion since Steve Cram in 1983 and is keen to use it as a springboard for the gold.

KEELY HODGKINSON (ENG) | 800M

The 20-year-old should be the hottest of favourites to be crowned champion. She took silver in last year's Olympics behind Athing Mu and then lost out by the barest of margins (0.08sec) to the American in the world final. That defeat left her bristling. "I'm definitely a little bit annoyed," she said. She felt that her Eugene performance did not merit a repeat but gold in Birmingham should be good enough for a second outing.

INDIA ROUND-UP

PRANATI FINISHES FIFTH IN VAULT FINAL

India's Pranati Nayak finished fifth in women's vault final of artistic gymnastics event. The 27-year-old from West Bengal, who has won bronze medals at the 2019 and 2022 Asian Championships, scored 13.633 in her first vault attempt and 11.766 in her second go for an average of 12.699 at the Arena Birmingham. Pranati, who scored 13.275 in the qualification, was handed a penalty of 0.1 and 0.3 in her two attempts. Australia's Georgia Godwin won the gold medal.

SUNAYNA ENTERS PLATE SEMIFINALS

Squash player Sunayna Sana Kuruvilla defeated Sri Lanka's Chanithma Sinaly in the plate quarterfinals of the women's singles event. The 23-year-old from Kochi, Sunayna proved too strong for her opponent, winning 11-3 11-2 11-2 in just 12 minutes. Meanwhile, ace squash players Joshana Chinnappa and Saurav Ghosal advanced to the quarterfinals winning their respective singles match.

SAJAN FAILS TO QUALIFY FOR 100M BUTTERFLY FINAL

Ace wimmer Sajan Prakash's campaign ended at as he failed to make the semifinals of the men's 100m butterfly event. The seasoned Prakash clocked 54.36 seconds to finish seventh in his heat and 19th overall. The best 16 athletes progress to the semifinals. He had failed to make the finals of his other two events — 50m and 200m butterfly as well. On Sunday, he had finished ninth in the 200m butterfly, his pet event.

LIFTER AJAY SINGH MISSES MEDAL BY A WHISKER

A low snatch total and a fluffed clean and jerk lift cost Ajay Singh (81kg) dear as the Indian weightlifter missed the bronze medal by a whisker in his maiden appearance. The 25-year-old managed a total effort of 319kg (143kg+176kg) to finish fourth best in the men's 81kg event. England's Chris Murray 325kg grabbed the gold. Australian lifter Kyle Bruce 323kg clinched the silver while Canada's Nicholas Vachon 320kg finished with a bronze.

Sindhu & Co storm into team final

ENS @ Chennai

INDIAN shuttlers are buzzing at the moment. With smiles all around, they seem to be a happy bunch with the players egging each other in every outing in the mixed team event of the ongoing CWG at Birmingham. Monday was a similar story as India, living up to their favourites tag, dismantled Singapore 3-0 in the semifinal, thereby guaranteeing themselves at least a silver medal.

Every point was met with claps and cheers on the sidelines as the shuttlers in action on the day danced around the court to complete the task in hand.

They will take on Malaysia in the gold medal match on Tuesday. Doubles duo of Satwiksairaj Rankireddy and Chirag Shetty put the team 1-0 ahead before PV Sindhu doubled the lead. Lakshya Sen then sealed the match with a superb performance against Loh Kean Yew.

In the opening tie, Satwik and Chirag got the better of YK Terry Lee and AJ Liang 21-11, 21-12. Sindhu also had no problems in her second match against Jia Min Yeo, winning by an identical score. Then Lakshya showed his big-stage nous with a power-packed performance against Loh.

Amit makes bright start

Amit Panghal was like his old self on Monday. The former World No 1 boxer started his CWG campaign on a promising note. He beat Namri Berri 5-0 to move into quarterfinals.

Overcoming odds, Judoka Shushila creates history

L Shushila Devi (in white) is the first Indian judoka to medal twice in CWG | AP

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

SHUSHILA Devi Likmabam is one of the pioneers of women's judo in the country. Back in 2014 during the Glasgow Commonwealth Games, the Manipuri judoka became the first Indian woman to clinch a medal (silver) at the event.

Carrying forward her legacy, the 27-year-old Shushila on Monday, though, lost the -48kg final by 'Waza Ari' to Michaela Whitebooi of South Africa, her silver meant she became the first judoka from the country to bag multiple medals at the quadrennial event. A 'waza-ari' is awarded after a player throws his opponent with control and accuracy, but not to the extent of an ippon.

Earlier, she assured the country of a medal after progressing to the final, beating Priscilla Morand of Mauritius. She took down Morand with an 'Ippon' to set up a gold medal clash with Whitebooi. Ippon is a move in which a contestant throws his opponent on the mat with considerable force and speed so that the opponent lands on his back. An ippon is also awarded when a contestant immobilizes his opponent with a grappling hold-down for 20 seconds, or when an opponent gives up.

Last year, she was the lone judoka from the country to compete at the Tokyo Olympics after claiming the continental quota.

However, life has not been easy for the judoka and she even contemplated quitting the sport back in 2018 as a hamstring injury sidelined her for months. Even on her return, she failed to qualify for the Asian Games. But national coach Jiwan Sharma motivated her not to give up.

Ahead of the 2020 Tokyo Games, she ran out of money and had to sell her car to keep her Olympic dream alive. "She faced a lot of difficulties. That's the issue as the government sponsors judokas only for a few important events. They have to spend out of their pockets to compete in other qualifying events to accumulate important ranking points. Shushila also encountered the same problem and sold her car so that she can participate in ranking events," Deven Moirangthem, Shushila's childhood coach, told this daily.

Soon after her exploits at the 2014 CWG, Shushila was appointed as a constable with the Manipur police. However, she continued to hold the post for almost seven years before being promoted as a sub-inspector last year. And that was also apparently done after another Manipuri athlete, weightlifter Mirabai Chanu, won silver at the Games and was appointed as an additional superintendent of police (ASP). "Dinik Singh, who was an international judoka, inspired Shilakshi, Shushila's brother, to take up the sport. She used to accompany him and soon got attracted to judo," replied the childhood coach when asked about Shushila's foray into judo.

Vijay wins bronze

In men's -60kg, Vijay Kumar Yadav produced a good show to pocket the bronze medal. He defeated Petros Christodoulides from Cyprus by Ippon to finish on the podium. However, all three Indians in the medal fray lost their respective contests.

Jasleen Singh Saini, who was allowed to compete only at the eleventh hour by the High Court of Delhi, lost the bronze to Australia's Nathan Katz. He was defeated by Scotland's Finlay Allan in the men's -66kg semifinal. India's Suchika Tariyal also lost the women's -57kg bronze medal contest to Christianne Legentil of Mauritius. She defeated Donne Breytenbach of South Africa in the repechage.

Wizard of Oz: McKeon makes big splash

ASSOCIATED PRESS @Birmingham

AUSTRALIAN swimmer Emma McKeon became the Commonwealth Games' most successful athlete during a history-making night in the pool on Sunday. The 28-year-old McKeon claimed her 11th career gold medal, spread across editions in Glasgow, the Gold Coast and Birmingham, to set a new Commonwealth Games mark for most titles.

It was her third gold in Birmingham, with the other two coming in the 4x100-metre freestyle and 4x100-meter mixed relays. Australian swimming celebrated again with a world record later Sunday when Maddie Wilson, Kiah Helverton, Mollie O'Callaghan and Ariarne Titmus won the women's 4x200-meter freestyle relay in 7 minutes, 39.29 seconds. Titmus, a double Olympic gold medallist in Tokyo last year, anchored the relay with a time of 1:52.82, the quickest split in a 4x200-meter relay in history. The 21-year-old Titmus touched the wall more than 12 seconds in front of the silver medallists Canada, with England another five seconds behind in third.

McKeon's gold was part of an Australian medal sweep in the women's 50 free. She won in a time of 23.99 seconds, with teammates Meg Harris taking silver and Shayna Jack claiming the bronze.

F1: Veteran Alonso to join Aston Martin next season

Two-time world champion Fernando Alonso will extend his Formula One career by joining Aston Martin next season. The 41-year-old Spaniard will replace Sebastian Vettel, who announced his retirement last week. Alonso's contract with Alpine was ending this season. Aston Martin said Monday that it signed Alonso to a multi-year deal.

ADVENTURES OF TEEN-TEEN

Side comprising four teenagers have dominated the proceedings so far, leading the Open category

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Mahabalipuram

ONE look at R Praggnanandhaa was enough to see he had survived a tough game. The sacred ash on his forehead was missing, the tension, sweat and the long time spent in his chair seemingly erasing it. Sitting next to India B's captain, RB Ramesh, the 16-year-old was hurting. The mood in the media centre was buoyant as the side had dispatched Switzerland 4-0 on Sunday.

They had earned the maximum points possible after three rounds of the Olympiad. Considering the ages of four of the five Grandmasters in the team — three 16-year-olds (D Gukesh, Praggnanandhaa and Raunak Sadhwani) and one 18-year-old (Nihal Sarin) — they have sort of become the darlings of the Olympiad. That they are also so damn good — Magnus Carlsen likes all of them — means they could easily walk away with a medal. If the first four rounds of the event is any proof, they are now one of the contenders to become the first Indian team to win gold in an over-the-table Olympiad. A word of caution, though. The contest picks up pace in the second half of the tournament, after the rest day on August 4.

Coming back to Praggnanandhaa's press conference after the third round against Switzerland, his replies were blunt and honest. "My game quality was poor (Sunday)," he had said. "I feel sorry for him (Yannick Pelletier)." Pelletier had run out of time. Thus, his opponent had survived a scare of sorts. But, at some level, this is also the stuff of champions. You can't expect to play 11 flawless rounds in a format as draining as Classical where games can last five hours on back-to-back-back days. You capitalise on your good days while learning to win ugly on your bad days.

On Monday, they kept up their momentum, beating an Italian side that had stunned Norway 3-1 less than 24 hours ago. While Sadhwani and Praggnanandhaa drew their respective games with Francesco Sonis and Lorenzo Lodici, Sarin (vs Luca Moroni Junior) and Gukesh (vs Daniele Vocaturo) beat more seasoned campaigners to maintain their position at the top of the leaderboard (Gukesh's win, with white pieces, is remarkable considering Vocaturo had held Carlsen on Sunday). With the win, Gukesh is the only Indian man to have won all four of his games. Even calling Gukesh as a man is slightly misleading as he's really a boy. What works for the trio is their fearless attitude, they have no baggage, are open to trying new openings and stay fresh for a longer period of time.

MONDAY'S RESULTS (ONLY INDIAN TEAMS)

Open India 1 drew France 2-2
India 2 bt Italy 3-1
India 3 lost to Spain 1.5-2.5
WOMEN
India bt Hungary 2.5-1.5
India 2 bt Estonia 2.5-1.5
India 3 lost to Georgia 1-3

In an entertaining press conference on Monday, Adhiban B, the final member of the side, actually spoke on this very topic. He referred to his other teammates as 'kutti pasanga (small boys)'. "We are playing well, that's why teams are scared of us. They see all the kids in our team and are scared, we are also playing well."

Adhiban, rested for the tie against Italy, further elaborated. "They are not scared of anything," he said. "Before the game, we might be scared of what might happen. But they aren't scared of anything. They are ready to face anything, anybody and any openings." Over the last four matches, as a team they have faced a variety of openings. But they have come up with the goods at every turn. Gukesh's game against Vocaturo was a case in point. Till the first 36 moves or so, the Italian was largely untroubled but moving the bishop to f6 in his 19th move, in hindsight, activated Gukesh's endgame. Following that, Gukesh went on the offensive. It was all over shortly afterwards.

India B leads in the Open category (Israel are in second) and Adhiban hopes the two draws on Monday means they will be able to with a bit more freedom going forward. "Yaaro sabham potanga nenekaren (somebody must have cursed us I think," he was firmly tongue-in-cheek when he was asked about losing their first points of the tournament. "This (losing points) was always going to happen. Now that it's happened, we can be a bit more relaxed."

A notice has been served to all the other teams, including the main Indian team, who are in 11th place.

Netflix to Olympiad, Tallulah's chess gambit

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Mahabalipuram

AT the Olympiad, there are two playing halls. The smaller hall is seemingly reserved for the countries that have the best traditions in the sport. The bigger second hall, where approximately 50 teams are in action on a daily basis, is the place to geek out to understand what drives people towards the game. There is Jamaica's Ras Malaku Lorne, whose dreadlocks alone are enough to grab eyeballs. Then, there is Djibouti's Abdallah Hussein Ali, who works as a traffic cop back home. Comoros has sent teams in both Open and Women's categories. The catch? None of their players have a rating.

Even among the myriad stories, Tallulah Roberts stands out. She is a part of the Jersey team that has sent a women's side to the Olympiad for the first time. According to the FIDE website, she's only the eighth player from the country to have an ELO rating. Here, she's playing the top board for her country. Considering she's the only woman to have a rating, that's not a surprise.

Jersey women's team player Tallulah Roberts | SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT

The surprise is the fact that she is here, playing the top board. Until the end of 2020, she didn't really like chess. One of her close friends had asked her to give it a try but she didn't have any interest in the game whatsoever. That was before she binge-watched Queen's Gambit two times in quick succession. The critically-acclaimed Netflix original, based on a chess prodigy set during the Cold War era, made a lot of centennials look at chess through a different lens. Roberts was no different.

While she was inspired by Beth Harmon — the show's protagonist — to pick up a chess board, another wave of restrictions following a second wave of Covid-19 in Jersey, largest of the Channel Islands with a population of over 10,000, meant they were all in lockdown. That was when she called her friend, as she wanted to give the game another try. She has fallen in love since. "I have become addicted to it," she told this daily.

"I got into chess during the pandemic. In lockdown and couldn't go anywhere. I binge-watched Queen's Gambit twice. My best friend taught me because he was really into chess. I had known him for 3-4 years and I was like 'I will never play chess'. Then Queen's Gambit came and it looked pretty cool. We were all stuck inside and I was like 'maybe I should consider chess. When I started playing, I kind of got addicted to it." Roberts, who has built up a substantial following thanks to Twitch, hopes Jersey's Olympiad debut will result in something substantial like inspiring a cultural shift in her country. "We don't have a chess culture," the 24-year-old says. "If I tell my friends I play chess, they don't care. One of my goals in playing this Olympiad is developing more of a culture back home because there aren't many women playing the game."

On Monday, the Jersey women's team —without the resting Roberts — quietly ticked off another first. Facing South Sudan in the fourth round, they picked up their first win of the tournament.

Messi looking to bounce back with PSG

ASSOCIATED PRESS @Paris

LIONEL Messi ended last season with his first five-goal haul in 10 years.

It was for Argentina against Estonia, however, not for Paris Saint-Germain, where he scored only six league goals in 26 games following his move from Barcelona. It was Messi's lowest tally since the 2005-06 season, when he was still only 18.

Although his 14 assists for PSG were the second highest in the league behind teammate Kylian Mbappe, the record seven-time Ballon d'Or winner's form fell well below expectations for a player who scored 672 goals for Barcelona.

His poor goal tally for PSG raised questions whether he could adapt to a new system after so many years where fantastic players like Andres Iniesta, Xavi Hernandez and Neymar played primarily for him. "The idea for him is to be more involved in the game and have teammates bond with him during games, which didn't happen much last season. The more the team is connected, the more the team produces," incoming PSG coach Christophe Galtier said. "From what I've seen, he's totally invested. As for the rest, the whole world knows what he can do."

Yet while last season was difficult for Messi, some have wondered if he has been holding back for this year's World Cup. At 35, it will most likely be his last chance to win it with his beloved Argentina. The tournament's unique timing of November 21-December 18, in order to avoid the summer heat in Qatar, also means he will arrive with much fresher legs than if it was held in June and July.

Achinta's perseverance pays off at CWG

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

EVEN on the day when his younger sibling, Achinta, was about to make his Commonwealth Games debut, Alok didn't hesitate to go back in time and recall their father Jagat Sheuli's death in 2013. He remembered how the tragedy drained them out emotionally and financially. So much so that they had to borrow money from friends and relatives to perform their father's last rites.

A lot has changed since then with Achinta — who's from Deulpur village in Howrah, West Bengal — becoming an established weightlifter in the country. Alok, however, feels the incident reminds them of their bitter past and motivates them to stay strong no matter what situation they face.

One such situation arose on Sunday night with the gold medal at stake. And Achinta, given the fighter he is, not only dealt with it head-on but pushed his opponent to the wall to clinch 73kg gold on his maiden appearance at the CWG in Birmingham.

Achinta Sheuli | AFP

To begin with, he created the Games record in the snatch by lifting 143kg, also his personal best, to lead the field at the break. His nearest rival from Malaysia Erry Hidayat Muhammad with 138kg as his best was five kilograms behind him. The West Bengal lifter extended the lead by one kilogram as he lifted 166kg in his first attempt at the clean and jerk section against the Malaysian's 165kg.

However, Achinta failed to lift 170kg in the next attempt. Given the difference to erase, the Malaysian team registered their lifter's weight at 176kg.

20-year-old Achinta, however, didn't disappoint in his final attempt as he lifted 170kg to set a Games record of 313kg in the overall lift. The difference proved too much for the Malaysian to erase as he failed to lift 176kg in his last two attempts to finish second. Canada's Shad Darsigny claimed bronze with a total lift of 298kg (135+163).

"They registered 172kg when we lifted 166kg in the first attempt and changed it to 176kg as they were left with no option. We were confident of winning gold and we did it quite comfortably," Vijay Sharma, head coach, told this daily from Birmingham.

Even the brother had asserted that the goal was always to finish on top of the podium. "Given his preparations in the last three years, nothing less than gold can be acceptable. The focus is on the 2024 Olympics and preparations for it will start soon as the qualifying rounds will begin in October this year," Alok had said.

It was Alok who inspired Achinta to take up weightlifting in the past but given the tragedy they underwent, he had to quit the sport and start earning. Achinta also helped him by doing stitching and embroidery before he got selected for training at the Army Sports Institute in Pune in 2014. Now it's the turn of Achinta to inspire his brother. "I have also resumed weightlifting and training regularly. I am a daily wager with the Fire and Emergency Services of the state government. I plan to compete in the upcoming nationals," added the brother.

Meanwhile, speaking on his last two attempts in clean and jerk, Achinta said he wanted to break his national record of 173kg, which he set at the Commonwealth Championships last year. "I was trying to break my own record so a little disappointed, but very happy with the medal. Tried to play it safe to not miss out on gold. For the sacrifices I have made, I want to achieve more. I know I will," he said after winning the medal.

Hardik is a luxury you want to have, says Aussie great McGrath

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @Chennai

NO global event in cricket can be as success without India's participation and importantly its star players in full flow.

For a while skipper Rohit Sharma and Virat Kohli have not been inform as per their tall standards. On Friday against the West Indies Rohit struck form with a 64 in the IT20 which India won handsomely. Australian pace legend Glenn McGrath who is in the city along with chief coach M Senthilnathan is training budding fast bowlers at the MRF Pace Foundation is happy to see Rohit back among runs. He is also pleased that Hardik Pandya is bowling his full quota of overs. With the T20 World Cup being held in Australia later this year, everyone wants India players to get back into the groove for the marquee event.

"Rohit coming back to form is good news. He is a class player and you want him to be doing well. One saw Shubman doing well get a good score the other day in the West Indies. The batsmen doing their job in the West Indies. You want to see your senior players doing well in the leading into a big tournament (World Cup)," said McGrath.

Pandya started bowling slowly in the IPL and is now bowling his full quota of overs regularly. Generally bowlers who come back after injury tend to begin bowling slowly and then begin to start bowling fast. Some players start to bowl flat out once again. "Hardik has to decide how he wants to bowl. That's up to him to decide. He has got to work out what works for him. When I came back from injury I wanted to be bowling at top way straight away and have that confidence and no fear," said MCGrath.

Hardik Pandya | AP

"Bowling quick is very much a confident sport and I think that Hardik is a confident player. When he's bowling well it probably has a positive impact in his batting. When he's batting well it has a positive influence on his bowling, so yes he's two players in one. He is a luxury you want. He's a good bowler, quite intelligent bowler and he's a powerful hitter. He has got a good game plan. He sort of puts himself in a batsman's shoes," said McGrath.

England all-rounder Ben Stokes retired from ODI due to overload. This brings us the relevance of ODIs in T20 world. "I am very much a traditionalist. I like my ODIs. I hope that is protected and still held in high regard. I liked ODIs, Test cricket is still the ultimate to me. I want that to be held in high regard. T20 is growing. The money is in T20 cricket. Play all the T20 franchises. To be honest, a lot of players, lot of youngsters coming up will look to play T20s. They have got to keep making it (ODI's) exciting. They have got a few challenges," signed off McGrath.

EARLY DAYS

She was born in 1987 and is of Hungarian descent. Originally a gymnast, she took up swimming at the age of 10 to not wait for her sister to finish classes at her club

OTHER ACHIEVEMENTS

The swimmer has earned six medals across two Olympic Games and became the first Beijing swimming gold medallist to defend a title in London

MAJESTIC meal

This restaurant is showcasing dishes inspired by tiger reserves across the country, in honour of International Tiger Day

FIA MAJUMDAR

THE tiger is synonymous with the spirit of India. A majestic yet endangered creature, the tiger population has risen in India over the past few years, but we still have a long way to go before the country truly has a tiger population to boot. International Tiger Day is celebrated on July 29 every year, to raise awareness about this big cat. Tiger Trail, a restaurant chain at the Royal Orchid and Regenta Hotels, is using this month to raise awareness about the tiger and raise funds to protect these magnificent creatures, by creating a special menu of their signature dishes.

Ajay Sampige, the assistant vice president of Royal Orchid Hotels, Bengaluru says the inspiration goes all the way back to the British Raj. "When the English went hunting, they would create a path, or a trail, to match the tiger. When the MD of our hotels [Chander K Baljee] went for a trail, he stayed amongst the cooks who accompanied British officials on their hunts. The cooks had created some of their own methods of cooking and some unique dishes in this time, which is what led to the conception of Tiger Trail," Sampige says. "The difference between this Tiger Trail and those trails is that we're not here to kill the tiger, we're here to appreciate it," Sampige adds.

According to Rana Dominic Gomes, the area chef south for the hotel, they want to create awareness for the tiger, by making the food resonate with the majestic animal. "I don't even know if the younger generation will even get to see the tiger live, they should know about the importance of the animal," he says. Gomes adds that their hotel was the first in the city to have an open-heart kitchen, which is similar to the kitchens that the British cooks used during the trails. "The cuisine has some elements from Ranthambore, some from Jim Corbett, some from the Sundarbans, all of that has been stitched together to create the signature menu here," says Gomes.

Dishes such as Galouti Kebab and Jhinga Till Tinka have elements of this cooking still that go back so many years. "The jhinga originates from Sundarbans and is made of tiger prawns that are marinated with cashew cream and coated with black and white sesame seeds. This is one of our most popular dishes," says the chef who's been with the hotel for 20-plus years.

Dr Madhu Chopra, mum of actor Priyanka Chopra is a proud mother and grandmother. But above all, she's an ex-army surgeon who has saved many lives. In Bengaluru over the weekend, she shares her motherhood journey and give us updates about her granddaughter, Malti Marie Chopra Jonas

'I HAVE TAKEN PRIYANKA ON MY NIGHT SHIFTS'

MONIKA MONALISA

BOLLYWOOD actor Priyanka Chopra took the internet by storm when she named her daughter Malti Marie Chopra Jonas, inspired by her mother's name Dr Madhumalti Chopra, aka, Madhu Chopra. For the ex-army doctor, it came as a pleasant surprise. "I got to know about the name only on the day of the namkaran, and I was so honoured. In our tradition, the paternal grandfather whispers the name, along with words of wisdom, into the baby's ears. Nick's dad did those rituals," reveals Madhu, who was recently in the city for an event organised by Mompower360.

The world is waiting with bated breath for Priyanka and her actor/singer husband Nick Jonas to give a glimpse of their six-month-old daughter, but the wait could be over soon. Madhu hints that the couple is likely to share a picture of their baby girl once she is one year old.

We have seen what a romantic boyfriend, now husband, Jonas is to our Desi Girl, making many curious if he is an equally doting father. "Priyanka and Nick already discussed being equally involved as parents. I give a massage and Nick gives her a bath and changes her diapers," says Madhu, who is a frequent visitor to the city as she is a member of the Art of Living. Even though both her daughter and son-in-law are quite involved in bringing up Malti, she is happy doing the overall supervision. For example, when it came to allotting screen time to the baby, although Priyanka was fine with it, after consulting doctors, Madhu was clear about no screen time for the baby in the first few years. "I told Priyanka, with screen time at such a young age, your daughter will get mote mote chashma," laughs Madhu.

But speaking about her motherhood journey, Madhu says she always prioritised her career, but after getting married into a conservative household, she had many hurdles to continue as a surgeon. "My parents were interested in my studies and career. I could not have done it otherwise. Now I am doing the same for Priyanka," says Madhu.

There have been many instances when she had to take Priyanka along with her to her clinic. "It was very rare that Chopra saab and I would both be out on duty. But when that happened, I used to take Pri on my night shifts. That way children also start respecting your profession," says Madhu. She even faced much criticism when she decided to send a teenaged Priyanka to the USA for studies. "I had full confidence in the upbringing I gave my children," she asserts.

A proud mother and now grandmother, she says while children's achievements can make one happy, public criticism can be doubly damaging to a mother. "That is why I have logged out of social media," she laughs. With children from two diverse professions, Madhu shares that the key to a happy life is communication, which she still encourages her children to do.

Skirting fiasco

THERE were a lot of things spoken about Priyanka Chopra wearing a skirt while meeting PM Narendra Modi. But Dr Madhu Chopra says the reality was different. Priyanka was decked out for a different event and the PM was ready for his engagements of the day. Since both of them were in the same hotel, the organiser requested both to meet, which was supposed to be for five minutes but went on for 40 minutes. Later, Priyanka posted a picture of her mother and her in short skirts on Instagram as a message to the trolls.

My parents were interested in my studies and career. I could not have done it otherwise. Now I am doing the same for Priyanka

Meet the 11-year-old who recently performed his 50th solo show, which was based on the theme of love and hunger from a child's perspective

Show of talent

ANAGHA PARVATHI

GOKULA Sahrudaya is an 11-year-old, who entered the Kalam Book of Records as the youngest artiste to perform one-man shows recently. Born in 2010, the Class 7 student of Presidency School, Nandini Layout Bengaluru, first got into the act during the summer holidays when he would direct short plays with his family. His father would watch him and explain the nuances of theatre. Gokula recently staged his 50th exclusive solo stage performance, Chitte, at Kalagrama.

He started working on his passion for acting at Vijayanagara Bimba, a cultural centre in Bengaluru. For almost seven years, he trained at Bimba and performed dramas. He staged several of them, including Arabian Nights, Rubik's Cube, and SaalumaradaTaayiThimmakka, before getting into his one-act show, Chitte. "My father is a writer. He is the reason for my interest in acting. He is my inspiration. One day, I hope to become an all-rounder in the theatre field," says Gokula, who also spends his time indulging in photography and music.

This show Chitte, meaning Butterfly, is directed by the theatre artist Krishnamurthy Kavathar and is an emotional story of a child's struggle. The central character is Paapani, a young boy, who loves spending most of his time near a lake, talking and interacting with it. The play is based on the theme of love and hunger, from a child's perspective. "The idea was to spread the message about how important it is to open our eyes towards the issue of hunger. It is one of the major problems that many people are facing today in their lives. So I thought, why not!," says Gokula, speaking about the recently-concluded show.

Gokula has received an encouraging response after every show which keeps him motivated. "Before I get on stage, my legs tremble. But I don't know how, once the show starts, I forget all of that, and a kind of easiness and confidence take over. I feel like I'm living the part. Especially during the emotional scenes, I cry automatically," adds Gokula, who always finds time for several rehearsals before a show and at the same time, excels in academics. "All my teachers and friends wholeheartedly support me in every step I take," says Gokula.

ROARS LIKE A TIGER

Renault's all-new Kiger comes with some attractive upgrades, making it easy on the eye and a safe ride

LEKSHMI C PILLAI

A couple of days ago, I participated in the national media drive of the new Kiger compact SUV from Renault India. This time, Renault chose the scenic Kumarakom as the location. The backwater destination witnessed a celebratory drive of the updated SUV, as it achieved the production milestone of 50,000.

Within 17 months after their global launch in Feb. 2021, it reached the half-a-lakh mark, that too in the pandemic. To continue with the success story, they have updated the Kiger with some cosmetic and functional additions.

The all-new Kiger has the winning formulae — the SUV stance, fuel efficiency, power, capable powertrains and of course the value-for-money proposition. The changes made are to attract youngsters.

Have a look at the additions — Cruise Control, wireless smartphone charger and red-fade dashboard accent are just some interior upgrades. Front skid plate, tailgate chrome, turbo door decals, red wheel caps on 40.64-cm and diamond cut alloy wheels etc are some exterior additions.

Renault Kiger 22 is available in two engine options — 1 l energy engine in MT and EASY-R AMT transmissions and 1 l turbo engine in MT and X-TRONIC CVT transmissions.

The Renault Kiger range is available in a new colour — stealth black. Kiger now offers seven colours. In total, Kiger is available in 20 variants in the price range of ₹ 5.99 lakh to ₹10.62 lakh. Let's look deeper into one of the most affordable offerings in the compact SUV segment.

Turbo performer

Kiger comes in two engine options. A 1-litre naturally aspirated petrol engine (72 HP) and 1-litre turbo-charged petrol engine (100 HP). The former is meted to either 5-speed manual or 5-speed AMT (Easy-R, as they put it) transmission. The latter has 5-speed manual/X-TRONIC CVT transmissions.

The turbo manual variants claim a fuel efficiency of 20.5 km/l. The figures vary from 18.24 kmpl to 20.5 kmpl among variants.

What is noteworthy here are the drive modes. There are Eco, Normal and Sport modes. As the performance levels increase in Sport mode, one cannot expect the highest attainable fuel efficiency.

Smooth stroll

The turbo engine with a CVT gearbox is a breeze. Sudden but smooth acceleration, wonderful CVT shifting and usable drive modes make all the difference. In Eco mode, the car just strolls. In Sport mode, it is like driving another car with a bigger engine! That much is the difference in performance. Normal mode sits in between these two and it is enough for the day-to-day commute. At higher revs, engine noise may enter the cabin. But this sporty note is not that annoying. I found that the suspension is also commendable.

DIMENSIONS

Length: 3,991 mm
Width: 1,750 mm
Height: 1,600 mm
Wheelbase: 2,500 mm
Boot volume: 405 l
Ground clearance: 205 mm
Fuel tank volume: 40 l

DRIVE WITHOUT WORRY

In a time when NCAP ratings are big discussions, Renault Kiger can boast of a 4-star Global NCAP rating for adult occupant safety. The car comes equipped with four airbags — front and side along with seatbelts with a pretensioner and load-limiter (for driver occupant). It also hosts a range of features such as ABS with EBD and rear parking sensors, which ensure safety while driving on the road.

THE CABIN

The cabin looks, simply put, cool. I drove the top turbo variant. The high-seating position is a highlight and the touch screen does not obstruct the road view. A lot of storage space is available. The wireless charging facility is a welcome addition. But 360-degree camera is missing. Tall drivers or passengers may feel the lack of ample thigh support.

END OF THE FREEBIE RIDE

ILLUSTRATION: SOURAV ROY

THE freebies have stopped, the gravy train has ground to a halt, and it looks like we have been unceremoniously thrown out. Online food ordering, hailing cabs and autos, and doorstep delivery are no longer so easy-peasy – there's service tax, delivery fee, surge fee and sundry cesses bulking up your bill. Yet, you and I pay it without a whimper, slaves of bad habits cultivated over the past few years.

Oh yes, it hurts. I paid ₹97 for a 2-km ride – unthinkable just a few months ago. In fact, for a very long time, the fare was ₹27 for 2km. That was when ride-hailing was a delightful new activity – the auto would pick me up right outside my gate and drop me where I pleased. No waiting for an obliging driver, no nasty comments, no spats over faulty meters which seemed to have a life of their own. I wanted nothing to do with autos which were off the aggregator grid.

That phase is long gone. Cab drivers now cancel rides at will, especially the ones who are to arrive at dawn to rush you to the airport. Panic follows. There is a surge charge, no matter whether it's sunny, rainy, morning, noon or night. Most times, you are left gazing at a rotating circle at your screen, hoping for redemption. So we are back where we started: dealing with recalcitrant drivers and being fleeced by an invisible operator.

Ditto with food delivery. Scratch cards, discounts and sweet deals belong to the past. Sample this: ₹65 for a plate of idli, ₹130 for a dosa, ₹250 for a smoothie... On an ordinary day, you pay 140 per cent for a dish, with taxes and fees layered in. Of this, the restaurateur gets his usual rate, the delivery agent gets a measly salary, while it's the aggregator with a wide platform who is calling the shots and raking it in. The middleman economy is back, and it's burning holes in our pockets.

It was the pandemic which played a big role in turning these fledgling startups into smug fat cats. Hark back to those long, silent lockdown days when walking the streets was a crime, and the food/ home delivery agent became the life saviour. Slowly, the habit grew and ensnared us all. From the harried homemaker to the choosy teenager to the work-from-home veteran, willy-nilly, we are collectively being taken on an a rather expensive ride.

It's not too late, we can still extricate ourselves from this web; we can walk out and find our own transport. We can fetch our own food, or better still, dine in and cut down on plastic packaging. The new economic model may be convenient and allow you to continue your social media meditation, but it's damaging in more ways than one. Think about it.

MARTIN

TO RESUME WITH THE CLIMAX SHOOT FROM AUGUST 5

Meanwhile, the Dhruva Sarja-fronted action-entertainer, which was earlier set for a September 30 release is likely to get postponed

A SHARADHAA

WITH just 28 days left for shoot, team Martin is set to resume filming on August 5. Dhruva Sarja, who is mourning the loss of his grandmother, is expected to join the sets on that day, says director AP Arjun, who hinted at rescheduling of the release date.

The makers had initially locked September 30 as the release date, which is set to be changed soon. "We had to reschedule the days and postponed the shoot to give Dhruva time to be by his ailing grandmother, who passed away recently. We didn't want to disturb him," says Arjun, adding, "We will resume with shooting the climax scenes, and some other crucial sequences in this extended schedule, post which we will announce the new release date."

Kartik Aaryan and Kiara Advani

Satyanarayan Ki Katha renamed Satyaprem Ki Katha

CE FEATURES

KARTIK Aaryan and Kiara Advani's Satyanarayan Ki Katha has been renamed Satyaprem Ki Katha. Kartik revealed the new title while wishing his co-star Kiara on her 30th birthday on Sunday.

"Happy Birthday Katha !! Tumhaara SatyaPrem. #SatyapremKiKatha. @kiaraaliaadvani," Kartik captioned the Instagram post of the film's first look.

The film is directed by Sameer Vidwans who is making his Bollywood debut. He has previously directed the National Award-winning 2019 Marathi drama Anandi Gopal. He commented on Kartik's post, "Mere Satyaprem aur Katha." It is produced by Sajid Nadiadwala. The film was announced in June last year, but days after the makers expressed their decision to change the name to 'avoid hurting sentiments.' Satyanarayan Ki Katha translates to the story of Satyanarayan, which is another name for the Hindu god Vishnu. The initial title faced outrage on social media.

The makers had issued a statement that read, "A title of the film is something that emerges organically through the creative process. We have taken a decision to change the title of our recently announced film 'Satyanarayan ki Katha' to avoid hurting sentiments, even if that's purely unintentional. Producers of the film and the creative team also are in complete support of this decision. We will be announcing a new title for our love story in the due course of our journey."

The film will see Kartik and Kiara coming together again after Bhool Bhulaiyaa 2.

Sylvester Stallone

Stallone slams producer Irwin Winkler

CE FEATURES

SYLVESTER Stallone has put out a statement criticizing producer Irwin Winkler and his family for making a spinoff film based on Rocky character Ivan Drago. Stallone posted a series of photoshopped pictures on Instagram where Irwin Winkler is seen sucking blood off Rocky like a vampire. The producer along with his family is seen backstabbing the aged boxer in another image.

The actor rose to fame by writing and starring in the sports drama Rocky which was released in 1976. The film became an instant classic, spawning several sequels and spinoffs, including the recently released Creed starring Michael B Jordan in the lead. The boxing film is inseparable from the action star's legacy but now he has come out slamming the producer and his family for destroying the iconic franchise.

In a scathing caption that accompanied the image, Stallone said "After IRWIN WINKLER And FAMILY SUCK ROCKY DRY! Presumed to be the most hated, untalented, decrepit, Producer in Hollywood and his cowardly children have found their next meal... Drago? Throughout history so many artists in every industry, recording, painting, writing, you name it have been destroyed by these bloodsuckers who have destroyed so many families, lining their pockets with other people's work.. #parasite producers #exploited artists"
